Legislators Heading Home As Eventful Session Closes

SHE'LL HAVE HER VOTE. Mrs. Nancy Leonard, 32, mother of two who has been a polio victim for four years, signs registration form with pencil held in her teeth while Mrs. Beverly Ritterath, deputy vote registrar, holds form at Pasadena, Calif. She is able to leave chest respirator and rocking bed occasionally and intends to make it to a nearby polling place in a wheelchair to vote in November election.

Ike, Pleased With Record, Begins Trip

President, Satisfied With Congress' Action, Takes Off for Vacation

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower flies off to a Colorado vacation today obviously pleased with the way his legislative program fared and bent on a speaking campaign to help fellow Republicans win firmer control of the next Congress.

White House aides claimed the chief executive batted about 83 per cent in the congressional session which adjourned last night. They said passage of 54 of 65 administration proposals by a closely divided Senate and House added up to a "pretty good" average.

Takes Work With Him

About a score of the Eisenhower-supported measures remained to be signed. The President ordered these and a lot of other unfinished business put aboard his plane, the Columbine, for the 6½-hour flight to Denver.

The President also arranged to take along speech-writing assistants and material for talks Monday and Aug. 30. Other speeches are planned for September.

Another sign that preparations for the fall election campaign already are gathering speed was Eisenhower's agreement to sandwich into the brief space between breakfast and departure individual picture-taking with 39 GOP House candidates.

One of Eisenhower's first chores on arrival will be to draft a half-hour speech on what he regards as administration accomplishments.

Talk Set Monday Night

The speech will be televised on all networks and broadcast over ABC at 9 p.m., EDT, Monday. CBS radio will record it for transmission at 10 p.m. NBC and MBS will rebroadcast it at 10:30 p.m.

Among bills the President will study at Denver are those carrying out the administration's farm, atomic energy and social security programs and a measure to outlaw the Communist party and strip Red-infiltrated labor unions of their legal standing before the National Labor Relations Board.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty told newsmen they could expect to be in work "up to their ears" the first week of the President's Colorado vacation.

Plans at Least 4 Speeches

Eisenhower plans to make at least four speeches during the six weeks or so he is to be away from Washington.

He is due to fly back to the capital Aug. 30 for a noon speech before the American Legion convention. On his way back to Colorado that same day, he plans a talk at the Iowa State Fair in Des Moines.

Also in the offing are speeches Sept. 23 at the McNary Dam on the Columbia River and that night before a political gathering in the Hollywood (Calif.) Bowl.

CONGRESS MOVES TO ADJOURN. Senate finance committee chairman Eugene Millikin (left, above) and chairman Daniel Reed of the House ways and means committee shake hands after agreeing on a compromise social security bill in the closing hours of the 83rd Congress. Gerald Morgan, administrative assistant to President Eisenhower, points to charts listing the accomplishments of the GOP-controlled Congress.

Senate Okays Final Bills at Night Parley

Members Face Recall To Study Report on Censure of McCarthy

WASHINGTON (AP)—After a final burst of legislating and oratory, the 83rd Congress has broken for home with President Eisenhower's thanks for its "record of accomplishment."

In its final hours last night, Congress sent Eisenhower a social security bill just about as he asked for it and a federal workers pay boost bill that Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California warned may be vetoed.

House Quits First

The House adjourned with a whoop and a holler at 7:38 p.m. It won't return until Jan. 5, barring a special call from the President. Meanwhile, most of its members will be battling for re-election Nov. 2.

The Senate finished its last legislative chore early in the evening when, by voice vote, it completed congressional action on a bill to bring another 10 million persons under social security and to boost both benefit payments and the taxes that support them.

However, it stayed around for another 3 hours and 12 minutes as some of the senators got some final remarks off their chests. It also confirmed a few more postmasters before quitting at 10:50 p.m.

Unfinished Business

Unlike the House, however, the Senate still has some unfinished business to dispose of later in the year.

The Senate authorized its Republican and Democratic leaders to recall it into session sometime in the fall to consider a report of a special committee studying censure charges against Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis). That committee has tentatively scheduled public hearings to open Aug. 30.

Just before the Senate adjourned for its indefinite vacation, Knowland relayed Eisenhower's "appreciation for the service of the 83rd Congress and the record of accomplishment" it had made.

There was a hail-fellow-well-met atmosphere in both chambers, but both Knowland and Senate Demo-

Conference in Deadlock

U. S. Expert Joins Fight to Save EDC

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — The United States stepped into the impasse here over the European army plan today in a desperate effort to negotiate a settlement.

Special Ambassador David K. Bruce, the United States' expert on European integration problems, flew in from Paris unannounced last night. He arrived as the foreign ministers were locked in a marathon eight-hour session trying to hammer out their differences over France's proposed changes in the European Defense Community treaty. The meeting did not break up until after midnight.

Meets With Adenauer

Bruce met for an hour this morning with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and then went to see Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak, chairman of the six-nation conference.

A German spokesman said the main purpose of Bruce's talk with Adenauer was to bring about a reconciliation between him and French Premier Mendes-France on EDC.

"We hope this talk will help us overcome some of the still outstanding difficulties," the spokesman said.

West Germany, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg already have ratified the European army pact. France and Italy have not.

No Compromise Reached

Bargaining here the past two days has failed to bridge the wide gap between the army plan in its original form and France's new proposed version.

Unwilling to admit defeat, the foreign ministers assigned a committee of defense, legal and economic experts to meet again today to try working out details of a compromise proposed by Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak.

The ministers planned to take up the compromise plan in an afternoon session. This probably will be the final attempt at a settlement in the parley, which had been scheduled to end yesterday.

Spaak Optimistic

Spaak's formula calls for taking up unsettled issues after France and Italy have ratified the treaty. But French Premier Pierre Mendes-France feels a pledge to reopen negotiations later is not enough to help him get EDC approved by the balky French Parliament.

Only Spaak seemed optimistic

Thrill-Killers' Leader Insane, Doctor Claims

Says Koslow Suffers Dementia Praecox; Attorney Seeks Tests

NEW YORK (AP)—The family doctor of Jack Koslow, 18-year-old leader of an alleged kill-for-thrill teen-age quartet, says he agrees with defense counsel that the youth is mentally ill.

When Koslow was arraigned in Brooklyn Supreme Court yesterday his lawyer, Murray Cutler, said his client is both mentally and physically disturbed.

Cutler asked that Koslow be transferred from jail to Kings County Hospital for psychiatric examination, saying the boy suffers from dementia praecox—a form of insanity which commonly begins in adolescence.

Supreme Court Justice Lewis W. Olliffe told the lawyer he must take his plea for transfer to the Department of Correction, which Cutler indicated he would do.

Last night Koslow's family physician, Dr. Josef F. Smul said he has attended the Koslows' only child since birth and that the boy had first shown definite schizo-

Wheat Controls Nuisance, Say Ohio Farmers

Federal Restrictions On Acreage Interfere With Crop Rotation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressmen who wrote the Administration's new farm program still are trying to figure out what to do about a lot of complaining small wheat farmers in Ohio.

These are the farmers who protest that, to them, the wheat price support program is nothing but a nuisance—or worse.

Ordinarily, they grow about 25 acres of wheat or less, either for feed or as a cash crop. Unlike the one-crop western farmer, they gain little from the price support program.

On the contrary, says an aide to Rep. William McCulloch (R-Ohio) of Piqua, they object to having the government tell them to reduce their acreage. This, he says, merely upsets their rotational system.

As an example of dissatisfaction, a number of Ohio congressmen such as J. Harry McGregor, Clarence Brown, McCulloch and Frank Bow, all Republicans, point

'Greatest Scandal'

World Church Speaker Blasts Race Segregation

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)— Christian leaders from many lands today were told that racial segregation is "the great scandal in the church especially in the United States and South Africa."

The problem was laid before delegates to the assembly of the World Council of Churches with a suggestion that they search for its solution in "a calm, Christian spirit."

College Head Speaks

Benjamin E. Mays, president of Morehouse College, Atlanta, termed racial separation "the great scandal in the church," and added:

"The local churches permit secular bodies such as the state and federal courts, the United Nations, big league baseball, professional boxing, colleges, the public schools and theaters to initiate change in the area of race.

"But even when secular bodies initiate the change, local churches, Negro and white, follow slowly or not at all.

"It will be a sad commentary on our life and time if future historians can write that the last bulwark of segregation based on color in the United States and South Africa was God's church."

Urges Calm Attitude

Dr. Ben Marais of the Dutch Reformed Church of South Africa told the conferees:

"Christian men and women in many lands look towards the church for guidance."

He pointed out that tensions often develop between racial groups, and added:

"Therefore it is becoming that we face this problem in a calm Christian spirit."

The addresses of Dr. Mays, a delegate and a Baptist, and Dr. Marais, an assembly consultant, were prepared for delivery before representatives of 163 denominations in 48 countries.

Col. Francis P. Miller, a delegate from Charlottesville, Va., asserted that churches have failed to educate laymen to regard their workaday jobs as the "place to which God has called them to serve Him."

Separate Lives

Many, he said, are inclined to think of their lives as Christians as separate from their lives as citizens, businessmen or factory workers.

"Regardless of what the assignment of each may be," he said, "God calls us all to stand for truth, purity of personal life, decency and fair play in human relations, for community, for justice and for peace."

A clergyman who came from behind the Iron Curtain told churchmen yesterday that communism aims at eventual destruction of the Christian faith.

Dr. Guenter Jacob, general superintendent of a large district of the United Evangelical Church in the Soviet zone of Germany, asserted that the "gulf" between Christianity and communism" cannot be bridged."

Wyandot Auto Crash Fatal to Korea Veteran

Edward Sloan Jr., 21, Of Nevada Dies After Accident on Route 23

UPPER SANDUSKY — A 21-year-old Korean war veteran of Nevada was killed at 2 a.m. today in a one-car accident on U. S. Route 23, north of here.

Edward J. Sloan, son of Mrs. Carrie Cline Trautman of Nevada, was pronounced dead on arrival at Wyandot Memorial Hospital in Upper Sandusky this morning. He had suffered a fractured neck and skull injuries.

State patrolmen from the Bucyrus post said Sloan's car veered off the right side of Route 23, skidded 400 feet, went back onto the highway and rolled over several times. The car was demolished.

Edward Sloan Jr. was born Feb. 28, 1933, in Akron, a son of Edward and Carrie Sloan. He was discharged from service in the U. S. Navy nine months ago. He was a member of the Nevada Lutheran Church and was employed as a mechanic.

Surviving sisters and brothers are Mrs. Wilbur McCammon of Crestline, Mrs. Jess Hill and Mrs. James Hill, both of Steubenville, Mrs. George Vassel of Mansfield, Nick Minnemeyer of Ashland, and Teddy Sloan at home.

Pope Assails Immodesty in Modern Dress

Calls for Persuasive, Prudent Fight Against Indecency of Mode

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Pius XII has directed Roman Catholic bishops everywhere to wage a "prudent and persuasive" fight against immodesty in modern dress.

The pontiff's directive was contained in a letter to bishops by the Vatican's prefect of the sacred congregation of the council, Pietro Cardinal Ciriaci.

It called for action against the "indecency of the mode, which especially in the summer season, presents a sad and reprehensible spectacle."

The letter was expressly written at the pontiff's direction and recalled his hopes for reform of Christian costume, which he expressed in proclaiming the Marian Year now in progress.

The letter recalled that criticism against immodest dress was voiced by Cicero and Seneca in the days of pagan Rome.

Immodesty in dress, it said, today is widespread. This, it added, was true "not only on the beaches and other vacation places, but everywhere, in the streets of cities and villages, in public and private places, and, not infrequently, even in the house of God."

The letter deplored the circulation by newspapers and other periodicals as well by movies of pictures that contribute to this evil. It called upon bishops and priests under their direction to wage a "prudent, persuasive and assiduous" action, especially warning parents of the dangers to which immodest dress exposes their children.

Marionite Gets 1-20 Year Term In Ohio Prison

MOUNT GILEAD—Lunas Johnson, 54, of near Marion, was sentenced by Common Pleas Judge Leland Rutherford here this morning to 1 to 20 years in the Ohio State Penitentiary for maliciously shooting with intent to kill.

Johnson was found guilty of the charge by a Morrow County jury on Aug. 11.

The Marion Countian had also been indicted by the county grand jury on two charges of assault and a charge of pointing a firearm and he pleaded to guilty to all three counts at his appearance this morning. He was then sentenced on each of the three counts to a 30-day term, to run concurrently with the longer sentence.

He was returned to the county jail and will probably be taken to Columbus early next week.

Johnson had been convicted of attempting to kill Everett Richendollar in a shooting episode which began on Route 529, four miles west of Cardington, on July 11. Johnson had accused Richendollar of taking his wife.

Princess Margaret 24

BALMORAL CASTLE, Scotland (AP)—Princess Margaret celebrated her 24th birthday in the quiet of the Scottish Highlands amid her family circle.

Bouquets and birthday greetings from all over the world arrived at Balmoral but, by tradition, it was a family birthday only and little information concerning the activities of the Queen's sister became known. Nothing formal was planned.

Unemployment Claims Decrease for Fifth Week

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government says new claims for unemployment compensation have gone down for the fifth straight week. During the week ended Aug. 14 they hit the lowest level since last October.

The Bureau of Employment Security reports initial claims last week totaled 255,700, down 16,500 from the previous week.

CAUGHT IN BREAK-IN

CINCINNATI (AP)—Police said two soldiers AWOL from Fort Knox, Ky., were captured today after they had broken into a dry cleaning establishment.

Don Lambert, 19, of Warren, Ohio, and Albert Holt Jr., 22, (no address available), were charged with breaking and entering.

Expanded, Liberalized

Social Security Measure Follows Ike's Proposals

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress has passed a bill liberalizing and extending the social security system just about as President Eisenhower wanted.

The measure aroused some pre-adjournment political bickering, but both House and Senate shouted approval of a compromise version late yesterday and the bill—final major legislation of the 83rd Congress—went to Eisenhower for his expected signature.

It will increase present and future benefits to retired persons and survivors, boost taxes to finance the higher payments and bring an additional 10 million persons under the 20-year-old system.

Political Haymaker

This was one of the key bills in the Eisenhower legislative program and one from which the Republicans expect to reap a political harvest.

Particularly is this true since the increased payments to 6½ million persons now on the rolls will go out about the first of October, when the fall campaign for control of Congress will be in full swing.

Democrats, however, insist the voters will not forget that the system originated under a Democratic administration and Congress and that the Democratic party has fought to expand it.

The bill will extend social security coverage to nearly all working people in America, whether they are employed by others or are self-employed.

Farm Coverage

The biggest new group brought into the system comprises 3,600,000 farmers and 2,100,000 additional farm hands.

Farm coverage aroused a last-minute controversy in the Senate over the bill as finally worked up by a Senate-House conference. The Senate had excluded farm operators, but House conferees stood firm on this point and finally won over to their side of three Senate Republican conferees.

U.S. Demands $271,383 for Destroyed Jet

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States, accusing Czechoslovakia of acting "maliciously" and lying, has demanded $271,383 for the shooting down of an American jet plane last year.

Damages were sought for the loss of an F84 jet fighter near the boundary dividing the U.S. zone of Germany from Czechoslovakia March 10, 1953.

The pilot, Lt. Warren G. Brown of Henderson, Colo., parachuted to safety.

He was flying one of two U.S. planes dispatched to look into the presence of a pair of Soviet-built MIG planes near Pilsen, on the border. The State Department declared radar proved neither American aircraft left the U.S. zone at any time.

Last Try Before Going Home

'Jury' Strives To Reach Army-McCarthy Verdict

WASHINGTON (AP)—The senatorial "jury" that probed the McCarthy-Army controversy planned a major effort today behind closed doors to break through barriers of discord and agree upon a verdict.

Chairman Mundt (R-SD), who presided at the hearings by the Senate Investigations subcommittee, said failure to agree would mean a lapse of weeks or months before the group's seven members could meet again.

Prospects Not Good

Prospects for agreement "are not good, but they're not hopeless," Mundt told a news conference last night.

Sen. McClellan of Arkansas, senior Democrat on the subcommittee, said he considers it is "not possible to agree" today. He's writing a proposed statement of what he thinks the hearings showed but said. "It isn't quite finished."

Some senators have said privately there has been delaying friction within the subcommittee, some of it because of sheer weariness in the hard grind of the Congress windup, and some due to resentment against alleged efforts to "steer" the findings.

Talks With Counsel

Meanwhile, Chairman Watkins (R-Utah) of a special bipartisan committee that will hold a new and wider investigation of McCarthy, scheduled a conference with McCarthy's lawyer to discuss procedural and other matters.

Watkins said he does not plan to propose a postponement of his group's public hearings from their scheduled Aug. 30 starting date, but that he does not rule out the possibility that the subject will be mentioned.

The special committee will look into charges leveled at McCarthy as possible grounds for censure action by the Senate.

Lists Possible Alternatives

Mundt said if members of the McCarthy-Army "jury" can't agree on a report now he will ask them to choose from among these possible courses:

1. Recess until sometime after mid-September, when he would call them back into session.

2. Call of negotiations until the Senate reconvenes—which it plans—in the fall or winter to receive the Watkins committee's report.

3. Let the Republicans and Democrats try to agree on separate reports by mail polls.

4. Have each member — four Republicans and three Democrats —write a separate verdict, and file them together as a single document. Mundt termed this the least desirable of the four.

Four Accidents Reported Here; Two Are Hurt

Freak Mishap Involves Quartet of Autos; No Serious Injury Listed

Two persons were slightly injured in one of four traffic accidents reported today by Marion police. No accidents on county streets and highways were reported by the state highway patrol or sheriff's deputies.

Hurt in an accident involving four automobiles at E. Center St. and Forest Lawn Blvd. at 8:17 p.m. Friday were Glen Jerew, 32, of Richwood and Mrs. Mae Miley of 715 E. Mark St. Jerew suffered a neck injury and Mrs. Miley some minor body injuries. She was treated at City Hospital for her injuries.

The accident occurred when Victor Nussbaum, 76, of Bucyrus stopped his car headed south on Forest Lawn Blvd. just south of E. Center St. and started to slide out of the driver's seat so his son could drive.

As he slid across the seat he put his foot on the gas pedal and the car started forward out of control. It swerved to the right into the parking area at the Jerzee frozen confection stand striking the left rear of the car parked there and owned by Jerew. The impact forced Jerew's car forward into another parked car owned by Paul R. Castor of Homer St., owner and operator of the confection stand.

Nussbaum's car continued across the parking lot and struck the right front of a third parked car owned by E. H. Miley of 715 E. Mark St. in which Mrs. Miley was sitting. Nussbaum's car next hit a metal light-pole at the rear of the Jerzee stand, swung in a large circle through two hedges on the property of Merle Wise at 155 Forest Lawn Blvd., and continued in a wide circle until Nussbaum finally stopped it on the east side of Forest Lawn Blvd. heading north near E. Center St.

Castor estimated damage to the light pole at $150 and Wise said there was about $50 to his hedges.

One of the remaining three accidents involved less than $100 damage and the other two were minor with no injuries involved. One was a collision at 751 Bellefontaine Ave. and an alley at 10:17 p.m. Friday. Cars involved were driven by Fred E. Shumaker, 50, of West Mansfield and Roy W. Beers, 42, of near Marion. The other involved a police three-wheel motorcycle driven by John R. Johnston, 29, of 1062 Wilson Ave. and a car driven by James P. McPeek of 274 N. State St. It occurred on Mill St. at 5:19 p.m. when McPeek opened his car door on the left-hand side of the car into the path of the eastbound motorcycle, police said.

Congress

cratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas fired parting political shots, each with an eye cocked toward the fall election in which 37 Senate seats will be on the block.

Knowland said the 83rd Congress which the Republicans controlled by a knife-edge margin, had "acted decisively to safeguard the nation from enemies within its borders and to rid government, labor, education and all other Communist infiltration and subversion."

But Johnson countered that he would let history determine whether the legislative record of this Congress represented the "bold, dynamic, progressive" program that Eisenhower has said will be the paramount issue in November.

The administration was dealt one final rebuff by both the Senate and House as they ignored warnings of a presidential veto and passed a bill to give 1½ million government employes an average 5 per cent pay raise.

The administration position was that such a raise should go hand in hand with legislation to boost postal rates to cover most of the estimated 380-million-dollar cost of the new paycheck increases.

Knowland made a futile effort to tack a postal rate increase to the pay bill, but his proposal was voted down 55-16. Then the Senate passed the pay bill 69-4. Later, the House—without debate—passed the measure on a voice vote.

In connection with the pay raise squabble, Democratic Sen. Edwin C. Johnson of Colorado, who is retiring voluntarily at the end of this year, tried to hand his colleagues a goodby present. But instead of thanking him for the gesture, his fellow senators recoiled in horror.

He offered an amendment to increase the salaries of Congress members and federal judges from the present $15,000 a year to $25,000.

Irish Glass Given Boost From U.S.

WATERFORD, Ireland — (UP) Ireland's famed Waterford glass industry is enjoying a revival helped along by growing sales in the United States.

Since 1952, consignments of the glassware have been leaving Waterford regularly for the United States. Specially designed for the American market, the glassware incorporates features of the original Waterford glass regularly exported to the United States until the factory closed down in 1852.

From the old glass-making factories went such prime specimens as the chandelier now hanging in Philadelphi's Independence Hall. Now from the new factory beautiful examples are reviving the fame of its predecessor.

Experts from Germany, Poland, Czechoslovakia and Lithuania were brought here to teach local workers the crafts of glass-blowing, cutting and engraving just a century after excise taxes killed the world-famous industry. Today, encouraged by the department of industry and commerce, the industry is working a 16-hour-day to keep up with the demand.

Up to 1951, the factory concentrated on ordinary glassware. Then the difficult process of decorated cut glass was attempted. It proved remarkably successful, and the industry was on the way back to the predominant position it once held in world markets.

Officers Catch Up on Tips in Sheppard Case

CLEVELAND (AP)—Detectives assigned to the Sheppard murder case said today they were catching up on tips and rumors.

At the homicide bureau, where Capt. David E. Kerr is in charge of the investigation, it was said most of the tips concerned the social activities of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard.

Kerr has said that all the tips received by mail or telephone would be methodically combed and checked to make sure no details had been overlooked.

Some of the lesser aspects of the case had been shoved aside last week while the investigators prepared a summary of evidence for use before the Cuyahoga County grand jury, which returned a first-degree murder indictment charging the osteopath with the death of his wife Marilyn, 31, in their Bay Village home July 4.

On the basis of this indictment Dr. Sheppard was arraigned yesterday and entered his plea of innocent. But although his attorneys had indicated they would ask for bail, and would propose a hearing on the question of bail, no such application has been filed yet.

The young osteopath remains in his cell at county jail. Except for about 30 hours when he was free on bail the first of the week, he has been in jail since his arrest the night of July 30.

EDC

after the breakup of the long session this morning. He said, "We went through all the questions without reaching a deadlock" and added he still had "some hope."

Mendes-France told reporters, "Things are going badly."

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, emerging from the session tired and drawn, said, "What good can you expect at such a bad time."

The French Parliament still has not ratified the treaty, 27 months after it was signed, and Mendes-France says it never will unless his proposals are accepted.

He wants, among many other things, to delay for eight years the supranational features of EDC whereby an international commissariat would make administrative decisions on defense for all member nations.

It is through this device that the other nations would be given controls over Germany to prevent a rebirth of nationalistic militarism.

Envoys of the four nations which have won legislative approval of the unified army plan say they can't accept anything that would require their parliaments to consider it anew.

The French revisions, which would change EDC into little more than a six-nation coalition, certainly would require new parliamentary action. On this issue there seems to be little chance of compromise.

Italy is in the lineup against the French revisions. Committees of the Italian Parliament already have made their reports on EDC, and ratification was expected this fall.

Farmers

to the recent vote in Ohio on wheat acreage quotas.

The vote was 2-1 against quotas. But they must abide by them anyway because the national vote was 73.3 per cent in favor of quotas.

Chairman Clifford R. Hope (R-Kan) of the House Agriculture Committee recognizes these Ohio farmers pose a special problem.

Actually, his committee did do something about this for small farmers in 13 other states, including New England, several southern states and Arizona and Nevada.

Need Not Participate

Wheat farmers in those states, because their production is 25,000 acres or less, need not participate in the price support-acreage control program.

These 13 states are classified "non commercial wheat areas."

Just the other day, Hope said on the House floor in response to questions by Rep Jackson Betts (R-Ohio) of Findlay:

"We have not gone far enough to include a state like Ohio, which is a large wheat producer, but which has many counties in it which I think quite properly could be put on a non-commercial area.

"The (agriculture) committee will give further consideration to that."

Hope and others on the committee tried to do something about this problem last year, by excluding all farmers growing 25 acres of wheat or less from the program.

But the Senate committee changed this back to 15 acres or less. That is the way the law still reads.

Two Price System

Another way to handle the Ohio complaints, says Hope, would be the two price system. This would mean unlimited wheat production by all farmers, but selling at home at a fixed price and abroad at world market price, which would normally be lower.

There is another aspect to acreage allotments that Congressman Brown of Blanchester, Ohio says will make farmers "very, very much dissatisfied."

This is Secretary of Agriculture Benson's decision regarding penalties for over-planting.

Under Benson's ruling, if a farmer violates his acreage restrictions on just one crop, price supports on everything he raises will be withdrawn.

"I question whether department has that legal authority," says Brown.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Alfred L. English, Shelbyville, Tenn., judge, is the new commander of the Disabled American Veterans.

English, 36, was elected at the close of the annual convention here yesterday. He is a native of Florence, Ala., and is judge of the General Sessions Court of Bedford County, Tenn.

WOMAN RELEASED

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland Heights police yesterday released a 36-year-old woman companion of James H. Lett, who is held in the writing of five extortion letters. Police Capt. Charles Ruff said a two-hour lie detector test convinced officers Lett, 37-year-old machinist, had no accomplices in his plot to extort $20,00 from Miss Kay M. Halle, department store heiress.

First Serious Offense

The doctor added, however, that despite the boy's mental symptoms he never before the present case had done anything "grave."

Koslow and his three chums are accused of torture, floggings and other senseless attacks in which two men were slain.

The other boys are husky Melvin Mittman, 17; Jerome Lieberman, 17, and Robert Trachtenberg, 15, all of Brooklyn.

Koslow was taken into court yesterday on a charge of feloniously assaulting a 60-year-old man in a Brooklyn park last Monday.

The four youths, arrested in connection with that assault, then assertedly went on to recount beatings; horsewhipping two girls; fatal beating of Rheinhold Ulrichson, a 43-year-old steeplejack; and torture-beating Willard Menter, 34-year-old Negro, whom they threw into the East River to drown.

All Four Confess

Police said all four youths have admitted taking part in the beating of Menter in a Brooklyn park, burning the soles of his feet with cigarettes and marching him seven blocks to the river.

The state will ask a grand jury on Monday to indict all four for first degree murder in the Menter case.

Mittman, Lieberman and Trachtenberg, all charged with homicide in the Ulrichson murder, will get a hearing in Brooklyn Felony Court next Friday.

Marion Firm Low Bidder on Job at Hospital

Four bids ranging from $10,092 to $23,186 for landscaping and site improvement of the new Marion General Hospital were received before the closing deadline Friday noon.

Publicly opened at city hall at 12:30 p.m. by E. L. Mitchell, secretary of the hospital board of commissioners, the bids were submitted by Schmidt Brothers of Columbus, Hollandia Gardens of South Vienna; Merley Sipes of Marion and C. C. Plumley of Marion.

Lowest of the four bids was submitted by Merley Sipes. Each of the bids were in two parts, one for fine grading, fertilizing and seeding the hospital grounds, the other for shrubbery plantings.

Sipes bid a low of $8,283 for the grading, fertilizing and seeding and $1,809 for shrubbery planting. His total bid was $10,092.

Other bids from next lowest to highest were as follows:

Hollandia Gardens, $11,250 and $2,333 for a total of $13,583.

Mitchell said the commissioners would study the bids and meet at a later date to declare the successful bidder and award contracts. Ohio law stipulates the contract be awarded to the lowest and best bidder.

Landscaping of the hospital grounds was planned by Marion Packard of Columbus, landscape architect.

The Purge

By George Sokolsky

Franklin D. Roosevelt tried to purge his party of senators and representatives and, with one exception, he failed. Roosevelt was at the height of his popularity, pretty much the master of his party and probably the ablest political operator ever to have sat in the White House. But he failed when he applied the purge method to American politics.

SOKOLSKY

Now President Eisenhower has undertaken a process of endorsement which gives the impression of being a purge by indirection. The President poses with a candidate in the 1954 campaign before a photographer. The candidate is then free to exhibit the photograph as a tacit endorsement of himself by President Eisenhower. It is then to be assumed that those who are not so photographed are not endorsed by the President. If those not in a joint photograph are elected and those who are so photographed are defeated, what is the political status of the President?

WHOEVER EVOLVED this formula must be a novice in politics. Senators and representtaives are elected on a basis of local interests. They are rarely, if ever, chosen in any state on a broad national program. he endorsement by President Eisenhower may be an advantage in some places; in others, such an endorsement can mean very little. For instance, in a state where the Farmers Union prevails politically, an endorsement by President Eisenhower can be of no greater value than an endorsement by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson. Emanuel Celler, to cite another example, will not be defeated in his particular district in Brooklyn even if his opponent is photographed with President Eisenhower, whether such a defeat is justified or not. It will be interesting to see if such a photograph defeats the Veep, Alben Barkley, in Kentucky, or if it elects Clifford Case in New Jersey. In each of these situations, local conditions and personal equations will determine the results.

THE PURGE IS DANGEROUS because it adds another element to the division within the Republican party. The split started in the 1952 Convention between the Taft and Dewey supporters. Eisenhower was not a factor in it as Senator Robert A. Taft established while he saw ae. oeinJHd levi while he was alive. He joined forces with Eisenhower and called upon his personal followers to pursue the same course. Taft spent much of his time and his waning energy to establish unity within the Republican praty.

I was present at a small dinner when Taft appealed to six of his personal friends to support Eisenhower and his logic was irrefutable. Those who had confidence in his judgment agreed to abide by his decision. As long as Taft lived, wounds were being healed; when he died, the Taft element lost contact with the White House. They were offended by the screening process insisted upon by White House and Republican National Committee officials who had been their opponents at the Convention and whom they regarded as minions of om Dewey whom they dislike and distrust.

None of this had anything to do with Joe McCarthy. As a matter of fact, McCarthy never belonged to the Taft element in the party. In 1948, he had been a Stassen manager; in 1952, he was closer to the Eisenhower than the Taft group. While Taft and McCarthy were very friendly, they had never become close political associates.

NEVERTHELESS, as the quarrel between the White House and McCarthy developed, the Taft element in the party tended to support McCarthy. Again it was not so much opposition to Eisenhower as to the so-called Dewey team in Washington. The testimony at the McCarthy-Stevens hearing established beyond doubt that the principal anti-McCarthy element within the Republican party were those most closely associated with Dewey, namely Herbert Brownell Jr., William Rogers, Sherman Adams, Henry Cabot Lodge, Max Rabb, Jmcas Hagerty, Joe Welch, the humble lawyer from Boston, was recommended by Tom Dewey.

No one has been able to do anything about this schism to date although many have tried, particularly the vice president. Richard Nixon. While originally the quarrel arose largely over personalities, today it has become a question of control involving the relationships of the executive and the Congress. To this must be added a contest over the control of the Republican party, whether it is to be in the hands of those who for 20 years stood by the Republican party or those who were associated with the Roosevelt and Truman administrations.

Overlooked Story

By Relmin Morin

(for Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK — Since the movie makers seem to be in the middle of an "Egyptian cycle" just now, it is surprising that they have overlooked one of the great love stories of that fascinating land.

It involves a queen, and a mysterious tragedy.

She was the lovely Nefertiti and you doubtless have seen copies of the famous head—the long, arching neck and perfect profile, the wide, almond shaped eyes, all balanced by a massive royal headdress.

In the wall engravings that have survived these 3,000 years, she appears as a slim and beautifully formed woman, almost as tall as her husband, the king. And this is a description of her in the words of some forgotten writer—

"The heiress, great in favor, lady of grace, sweet of love, mistress of the south and north, fair of face, gay with the two plumes, chief wife of the king, king, whom he loves, lady of the two lands, great of love, Nefertiti, living forever and ever . . ."

BUT IN THE CITY where this appears, there is a ruined building that breathes of tragedy. It evidently was her home and it indicates that after perhaps 14 years of perfect marriage, she left the palace and her husband never to return.

Why? Did she quarrel with the king and leave voluntarily? Or was she sent away, blasted by some terrible disgrace? The secret has never been unlocked, but here is the story up to the point where it disappears in voiceless dark.

Her husband, Akhnaton, was an extraordinary man. If you read that excellent book, "The Egyptian," you learned a good deal about him. He is known as the "great heretic."

He broke away from the powerful and established priesthood that had gripped Egypt for thousands of years before his day. He introduced the concept of a single deity—an astonishing forerunner of Christianity—eliminated the elements of fear and dread that characterized the old religion.

IN SHORT, he abolished the thousand gods and demons of the old ways, and taught his people to worship in a spirit of joy and light. Again, the parallel between these patterns and the Christian concept, which was to appear many centuries later, is almost startling.

Meanwhile, his life with his queen, Nefertiti, must have been a romantic idyll

The engravings show them in charming poses...the king with his arm around her...supporting her in a chariot...holding her hand as he dispenses gifts...the king and queen playing with their daughters.

—:—

THEN SOMETHING happened. She left him and went to live in a house on the north side of the royal capital that he had built.

Nobody knows why.

But there is a theory that in his later years, Akhnaton recoiled from the fearful step he had taken, the rejection of the ancient gods. Perhaps the priests slowly wore him down.

There is a belief that Nefertiti, for political reasons, was an even more fierce enemy of the old gods than he was. And perhaps this was the basis for a terrible quarrel that caused her to leave him.

Her name was erased from many of the statues and much of the story has been lost.

Which leaves room for the scenario writers to graft a happy ending on it.

Man at Kenton Awaits Jury in Gaming Probe

KENTON — Philip Wisse, 62, of Kenton is free today after posting two $1,000 bonds pending arraignment on grand jury indictments of exhibiting gambling devices for gain and carrying a concealed weapon.

Wisse was released last week from a Lima hospital where he was recovering from wounds received June 25 in a shooting at a farm house about four miles south of Kenton, when an unidentified man attempted to rob him. Authorities discovered gambling devices at the scene of the shooting.

Two other persons charged in the grand jury investigation of the gambling activities have been sentenced. Mrs. Lula Herge of Lakeview was sentenced to 90 days in the Toledo workhouse and fined $500, while M. L. Anderson of Kenton received a 30-day sentence in the Toledo workhouse and a fine of $500.

Woman, 76, Bruised In Morrow Crash

Mary Konst, 76, of near Cardington, was injured in a two-car mishap in Morrow County, the lone accident investigated by Marion state highway patrolmen Friday.

The Konst woman was a passenger in a car driven by Charles F. Konst, 82, of near Cardington. She suffered a bruised right leg and right side, but did not require treatment.

State patrolmen said Konst made a right turn from a county road onto State Route 746, one and one-tenth miles south of the Marion County line, and collided with a southbound car driven by Troy E. Keltner, 42, of near Cardington. The Keltner car swerved to avoid the collision but the autos sideswiped. The vehicles were slightly damaged.

Konst was arrested for failure to yield the right-of-way and was fined $15 and costs when he appeared before Cardington Mayor Don Healea.

Rosen Hits Home Run in Indian Win Over Baltimore

Tribe Gains As Yankees Are Beaten

BALTIMORE (AP)—Just about the time people begin to worry seriously about Cleveland's Al Rosen he whacks one

Last night Al got his first home run in Baltimore's spacious park It came on Joe Coleman's first pitch to him and it landed in the left field stands while Larry Doby who had just tripled home the Tribe's first two runs came in with the third tally

Staked to a 4-0 lead Art Houtteman went on to win his 13th against six losses beating the Orioles 7-2 with the help of two-hit and scoreless pitching by Hal Newhouser in the last three frames The victory enabled Cleveland to gain a full game on the New York Yankees

Rosen's homer was his first in eight days and his second in a little more than three weeks Thursday he tempted his sore finger tagging a runner and there was speculation about just how much good the Tribe big man would do for the club on this important 19 game road trip

But, just as he answered similar speculation in the All-Star Game July 13 by poling two homers and driving in five runs—sore finger or no—Rosen gave his answer last night with a homer and a double in five times up

The loss was the 10th straight for the Orioles and the 14th in a row to the Indians

The Tribe celebrated the 46th birthday of its manager Al Lopez by rapping 14 hits Half of them came off Coleman who gave way to Mike Blyzka in the second after Al Smith doubled and Avila tripled him home Doby singled off Blyzka to score Avila and put the Tribe in front 6-0 In the last inning the Indians added another run on doubles by Rosen and Sam Dente—these off Howie Fox who hurled the last two frames

Bob Lemon, whose eight victories in the past 30 days make him Cleveland's hottest pitcher at present goes after his 18th victory today against five defeats If he defeats the Orioles and Bullet Bob Turley (9-13), he and Chicago's Virgil Trucks who won last night will be the league's only 18 game winners

Crone Hurls No-Hit Tilt For Toledo

By The Associated Press

The first no-hit game of the American Association season—and the first since 1952—went into the books last night over the name of Ray Crone of Toledo

The 23-year-old right-hander set down St Paul 3-0 in a seven-inning opener of a doubleheader

He struck out four and walked two As St Paul batter ever looked slightly dangerous and only five drives went past the infield George Crowe's home run was all the support Crone needed Toledo won the second game 8-4

The Louisville Braves increased their 1 5 game lead to coming from behind for a 7-1 decision over Columbus Herb Moford shut out the Indians on three hits for seven innings but in the eighth singles by Bill Harrell and Joe Altobelli and two walks tied the score 1-1 and Stan Pawloski's double drove in two more runs

The runner-up Louisville Colonels beat Minneapolis 6-4 with Pete Daley's homer with two aboard in the fourth inning the game's decisive blow

Charleston pushed over a run on Ed Cereghino in the 10th inning to beat Kansas City 4-3

BELL RINGS IN FIELD

CINCINNATI (AP) — Gus Bell is taking his fielding seriously this year The Redleg centerfielder led all National League outfielders in errors last season with 11 Up to the end of June this season he had committed only one error in one game That was in the first game of the year

Panel Heating Used Heavily in Ranch Houses

New Type Commands 14 Per Cent of Market; Economical for Space

Little known before the war, panel heating now commands approximately 14 per cent of the residential hot water heating market, says the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau.

The rapid rise in popularity of panel heating may be accounted for largely because of its unique adaptability for heating the types of home which has set the pattern for new home construction in recent years — the basementless ranch house built upon a concrete slab.

In this type of home, space is at a premium, and of all modern heating systems panel heating is the most economical in its use of space. To begin with, there are no radiators or other conventional types of room heat distributors required with a panel heating system.

In this type of heating, the panels which deliver the heat consist of serpentine pipe coils embedded in the floor slab, a wall, or the ceiling at the time the home is built. Heat for the panels is supplied by a small boiler, which pumps hot water through the network of pipe coils to different panels, in response to the demands of one or more thermostats.

The radiant heat rays emitted by heating panels travel in all directions to warm colder surfaces in a room, particularly outside walls and windows. Heating panels, never more than gently warm to the touch, act as giant radiators to maintain even heating comfort with an absence of drafts. Because room surfaces are kept warm so that the body does not lose heat too rapidly through direct radiation to cooler surfaces, it is possible to enjoy complete comfort at a lower air temperature than is practical with other types of heating systems.

It is customary to zone a panel heating system so that the temperature of panels heating bedrooms can be kept at a consistently lower temperature than panels providing heat for the living areas of the home. This assures at the same time greater comfort and a saving in fuel cosumption.

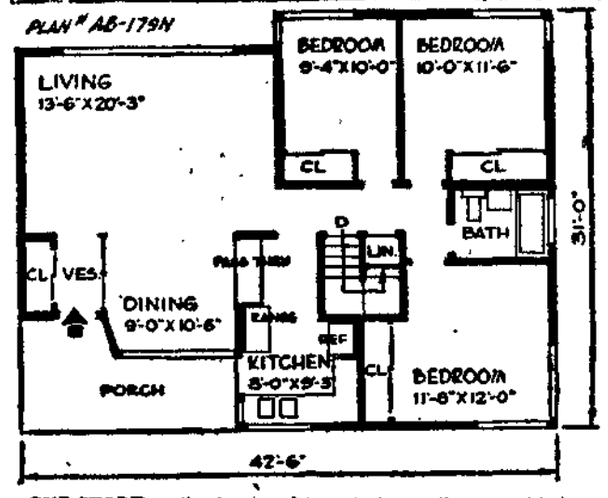
DON'T BEND LID

When you pry the lid off a paint can with a screwdriver, be careful not to bend the lid. You'll want it in good shape to seal the can afterward.

House Built for Hillside



ONE STORY on the front and two stories on the rear, this house is planned to fit a hillside. The lower level provides for a two-car garage. Exterior is concrete block below, shingle siding above and a roof of asphalt shingles. The house coveres 1,150 square feet. Plan AB-179N, is was designed by Bob Burns of Des Moines, Iowa, for the American Builder Home Plan Service, 79 West Monroe St., Chicago 3, Ill.

Glides, Cups Stop Tile Floor Damage

Use glides, furniture cups or rubber casters to prevent damage caused by the continued pressure of heavy furniture on tile floors. Similar protectors also should be used on often-moved lighter pieces, including chairs, stools and occasional tables.

Glides are smooth-surfaced protectors which may be substituted for casters. They are broad-based and designed to spread the weight of a piece of furniture over a larger area, thus preventing disfiguring marks. They move easily and last indefinitely.

Plastic cups are inexpensive and may be placed beneath the legs of furniture pieces which are not moved often. Rubber casters are practical for heavy furniture, such as beds, chests and sofas which are moved regularly for cleaning.

Primer Needed Before Painting on Wallboard

The increasingly popular drywall construction is not difficult to decorate attractively.

The various types of wallboard are, however, very absorbent and need to be well sealed with a good coat of primer. Before applying the primer, cover the joints between the panels with a tape that is especially designed for the purpose. also fill all nail-head holes with a spackling material and sand them even with the surface.

Taxes Seen as Big Item In High Cost of Building

By DAVID G. BAREUTHER
AP Real Estate Editor

All of this home-care-and repair and do-it-yourself business we hear so much about nowadays has a lot of reason back of it. Briefly, we are obliged to take care of our homes because new homes cost so much.

Of course, it's getting to be almost old-fashioned to talk about the high costs of building. We've been talking about that ever since World War II and costs still show no signs of going down. So it's interesting to run across some reasons for this situation.

Taxes are a big item, says an expert, Myron L. Matthews of the Dow Service building reports of New York. He cites an average size house selling with its land for about $17,225 and finds that taxes account for $1,854 of that cost.

"In 1939-41," he says, "the sales price of that house included only about two per cent to cover the miscellaneous taxes then current. Today taxes add almost 13 per cent."

AND HE isn't talking about the taxes you pay after you buy the house. He means taxes on the builders' corporate profits and taxes on salaries and on labor in the production of the materials and the house.

Matthews incidentally divides the cost of that house as follows: 39 per cent for materials, equipment and appliances; 30 per cent for labor on the site, and 31 per cent for land and builder's overhead and profit—of which he says the land probably amounts to $2,000.

He had figured other mark-ups since pre-war days, such as $972 on the same house for loss of productivety at mill, mine, quarry, forest and site; and $244 for added benefits to the building trades, but those bring up another story. Death and taxes are enough and we don't aim to be funeral, so we'll settle for the tax argument today.

THERE'S A NEW paint coming on the market this fall. You take the top off the can, tip it upside down and the paint doesn't run out. It's jellied. Still it is supposed to spread with a brush just the same as any liquid paint.

The big idea is that this form of paint will never have to be stirred no matter how long it stands on the shelf. The chemists who developed it say they tested a can that had stood for more than two years and there was no settling.

The secret lies in the vehicle of the paint, which in this case is a formula of thixotropic alkyds. The manufacturers of this ingredient don't intend to make paint, but rather to license the use of the vehicle to various paint makers, similar to the way ethyl is licensed for gasoline.

In using this paint, you dip the brush in the jelly, b r i n g out a blob of paint and spread it. There's no dripping on the floor, nor down your arm when painting overhead.

AND HERE'S ONE for the birds: You can get aerosol "bombs" loaded with a special gelatin compound which is harmless to birds, but so disagreeable to them underfoot that they will not roost on your window sills, shutters, or roof eaves. It's hated by pigeons and starlings. Still it's odorless and harmless to humans.

The makers claim it will cling to any metal, hard stone, wood, or other building material without staining. It is propelled out of its can by liquified freon gas.

School Patrols Will Organize Here Tuesday

An organization meeting of the School Safety Patrol for Marion city schools will be held Tuesday morning at 10 a.m. at the Palace Theater.

Police Chief Thomas B. Coon and Patrolman D. L. Everly, who supervises the patrol, asked that all selected for this school year attend the meeting.

Chief Coon said the prospective patrolmen will be briefed on their duties after which some cartoon movies will be shown by courtesy of the Palace Theater management.

Everly said 200 boys and girls are expected to attend the meeting. The patrolmen this year will take their posts beginning on the first day of school and will be asked to remain on the patrol for the entire year.

Last year the top patrol boy or girl from each school and the outstanding patrolman in the city were taken on a trip to Washington and all patrol members were later taken on an outing to the Columbus Zoo.

GREENWICH, Ohio (AP) — Anybody lose a wedding gown? Mr. and Mrs. Ray Law of Greenwich found a full length, white one Thursday along U.S. 224. The only identification were the words "Bridal gowns and formals, Lockhaven, Pa.," printed on the box.

Marine Sergeant Leads In National Rifle Meet

CAMP PERRY, Ohio (AP)—Army Capt. Louis J. North of Columbus, Ga., who led the match rifle division of the 1954 National High-power Rifle Championship all week, dropped out of contention today by falling six points behind the leader, S. Sgt. Michael Pietroforte of Parris Island, S. C.

The Marine sergeant had a 488 out of a possible 500, and a civilian, Alvin Nauman of Douglas, Wyoming, moved into second with a 486. North was out of the running with 482.

SEEKS CRASH CAUSE

YOUR HOME . . . Today and Tomorrow

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

Some houses have an unattractive fireplace which no amount of decorating seems to improve. It may be too plain or in poor proportion or just homely. One help for such a fireplace is to convert it into a raised hearth.

This is less work than one might think because everything is there to work with and no large structural changes are involved. You can actually see how the finished job will look by laying the brick dry and observing the effect before going ahead.

The job consists of laying a brick wall, two courses, high, all around the edge of the present hearth, as illustrated, and then filling in the enclosed area with concrete. When the job is completed the change in most cases has been a distinct improvement in the fireplace and in the room as the opening has been taken out of the mediocre class and made into something different and interesting.

There is always the chance that raising the bottom of the fireplace will interfere with the draft and cause smoking; so the best idea is to lay two thicknesses of brick over the fireplace floor without cementing them together and light a fire and see if the draft has been reduced or interfered with. If this is the case, and you still want the raised hearth, the difficulty can probably be overcome by installing a hood across the top edge of the fireplace opening. As a matter of fact, a hood might well add to the better appearance of the fireplace, particularly if it is made of copper or light brass.

The best manner of approaching this piece of work is to buy packaged mortar for the brickwork and to make the concrete fill of a mix of one part cement to three of sand and five of gravel.

West's Spies Sabotage Food Output, Reds Say

BERLIN (AP) — The Communist East German government charged today Western "spies and agents" are attempting to interfere with food production in the Soviet zone.

The accusation was contained in a warning to the population issued by the ministry supervising food producing industries. It said misleading orders typed on stationary bearing faked ministry letterheads have been sent to several plants in efforts to mix up their production.

Forestry Science Used To Produce Top Home Lumber

The house you're planning to build more than likely was "grown" during your lifetime, probably since you got out of knee pants or rompers.

Since for many generations eight out of ten homes in this country have been built out of wood, there's a pretty good chance that yours will be too. Durability, flexibility, and availability of wood as a home building material are the chief reasons for this.

Whereas your ancestors chose their material from the virgin forests of America, now you choose your material from scientifically cultivated forests. Today's forest management — the uniform cultivation of timber that eventually ends up in your home as framework, siding, flooring, beautiful paneling and cabinet work — has produced grades of lumber the like of which your ancestors never saw.

Many Mishaps On Roofs Seen Around Homes

Authorities Say Proper Ladders, Strong Eaves Help Avoid Accidents

Every year, according to safety experts, more than four million persons are injured in accidents in and around the home. Many of the mishaps, as might be expected, can be traced to roofs and chimneys. Safety authorities have issued the following recommendations:

The roof itself should be constructed so that it may be safely inspected and repaired, and the danger of fire minimized.

Eaves should be strong enough to support a ladder placed against them.

Roofing materials should be incombustible or resistant to sparks and heat. When working on the roof, use a chicken ladder or other device, both to protect the shingles and to minimize the danger of sliding off the roof. Keep this precaution in mind when installing or inspecting a TV antenna.

Chimneys and vent pipes should be adequately flashed.

Chimneys should be of incombustible material and normally should extend at least three feet above a flat roof or at least two feet above the highest ridge of a pitched roof.

Architect Has 'No Walls at All' Home

Denver Planner Designs Most Unique House In the City

When an architect sits down at his drafting board to design a home for himself, you can expect something different. Denver neighbors were not surprised when architect Henry Toll moved into the city's most original residence. He calls it "No Walls at All," and that is only a slight exaggeration.

Viewed from the rear, the house looks like it had sunk into the ground to the level of the eaves. As a matter of fact, the only perpendicular walls are the foundation walls and those under the gables. The foundations serve as the lower part of the room walls. Dwarf columns carry the roof above the edge of the floor and an extension of the roof beyond the wall line covers storage space at counter height.

The floor of the one-story house is 28 inches below grade. Windows in the gable ends are at conventional height but on the outside the ground is only six inches below the sills.

THE HOUSE is built on a slope which has been utilized to provide a spacious floor-level front yard and a window-level yard on another side. Although unusual, it makes a handsome appearance.

There are two bedrooms for the children but none for the parents. They take their nightly rest in a balcony suspended high above the floor at the center of the house, whence they can oversee and control all the rooms in the house. Access is by a ladder. The dressing room is on the main level.

The architect could see no reason for having doors to the rooms of his house, on the theory that young children do not need privacy, so he eliminated all except exit and closet doors and the one to the bath.

THE EXTERIOR exposure is mostly roof area, covered with noncombustible shingles. An attractive light gray in color, the asbestos shingles give the novel structure an attractive and substantial appearance and aid in summer cooling by reflecting heat. The walls are concrete.

Toll now is in the process of extending the west porch and adding a garage, which will produce two more gables and bring his home up to the seven-gable mark of the house in Nathaniel Hawthorne's famous novel. The new roofs, too, will be covered with asbestos-cement shingles.

The process of omitting almost everything between the roof and foundations produces more spacious rooms at less cost, Toll believes.

"NO WALLS AT ALL" is what Architect Henry C. Toll of Denver calls this house, designed for himself. Part of the house is below ground level and the roof rises directly from the foundation walls, except at the front entrance and wing adjoining it. The foundation walls and the underside of the pitched roof serve as the room walls.

First Aid for the Ailing House

By ROGER WHITMAN

Q: I removed the molding from our living room walls and after sandpapering and sizing the plaster I had it papered, but the outline of the place, where the molding was, shows through. Is there any method to remedy this?

A: What should have been done in order to get a smooth surface is to fill the light indentations with spackle or Swedish putty. The latter is made by mixing spackle with paint or varnish. Directions will be found on the spackle box. Of course, the wallpaper would have to be removed in order to do the above work.

Q: We are plagued with centipedes crawling out of the baseboard onto our floors, especially during the damp summer months. Sprays have no apparent effect. Have you any suggestions?

A: I suggest your trying the new type of floor wax which contains an insecticide, in proportions large enough to kill crawling insects, but harmless to children and pets. I know it works very well on ants, and it may also be effective on centipedes. Otherwise I suggest calling a professional exterminator.

Q: I would like to know of the cleanest and fastest way to paint windows especially around the glass panes.

A: There is a liquid masking tape on the market which works very well, particularly on the type of time-consuming job of painting windows with many small panes. Following label directions, this liquid is merely painted over all the edges where wood meets glass, with a generous margin of error on the glass. Then, the paint can be practically "slapped" on the frames. When the final coat is dry, you merely run a razor blade along the edges of the glass in a straight line, and the painted area on the glass peels right off, leaving a clean, sharp, professional edge. If you paint the entire area of glass while you are at it, you will find that the "liquid tape" after you peel it off, has done a pretty good job of cleaning the window as well. If this material is unavailable in your area, you can get some masking tape at your local paint store and place it on the glass adjoining the surfaces to be painted. To prevent spattering on the glass it would be wise to place a sheet of paper over the glass and hold the paper in place with masking tape. After the work is done all of this can be easily stripped off. The use of a sash brush will also help in doing a neat painting job.

Q: We painted our stucco house with oil paint, putting it on over cement base paint. Eight months later the finish blistered and peeled, and it looks terrible. The paint dealer informs us we should clean all the old finish off before starting to repaint.

A: I agree with the paint dealer. The easiest way, in fact about the only way, to remove all the finish from a surface as rough and pitted as stucco, is to have it sand blasted off. Any other method, such as using paint remover, on an entire house would take forever. When you re-paint, I suggest using cement base paint made for the purpose.

Carey Company Donates Materials for Park Lot

CAREY — The National Lime and Stone Co. of Carey is donating the materials for a 500-car parking lot at Carey Memorial Park, preparatory to holding the high school football games there.

A number of trucks have been kept busy hauling cap rock to the site which will be covered with crushed stone.

A suitable parking lot and a cyclone fence were the two immediate needs to be met before the Carey Board of Education would agree to transfer the high school games to the park. An intensive drive for the fence fund is being conducted this week.

Growing Pains

Flower Bouquets Called Wives' Job This Month

By ALBERT S. FULLING
Associated Press Writer

August is the time to get tough with the Missus.

It is the time to announce, "You wanted a cutting garden, so cut. You wanted flowers for the house, for friends, for sick people who needed cheering up—so make with the bouquets, please."

Don't let her put you off with that business of—"The flowers look so pretty in the garden, I hate to pick 'em."

—:—

BE FIRM. Make a big issue of the work you did in the spring—the digging, raking, picking stones, fertilizing, seeding and general make-ready—so she would have flowers to spare.

Tell her the more bouquets she picks and arranges, the more you will know your sweat and toil are appreciated—that she loves you in August as you loved her in April, May, June and July.

Either you promote the Little woman to picking the flowers, or you inherit the essential job of clipping flower heads to keep your labor of love from going to seed.

AND TO KEEP the annuals blooming, you've got to keep them from going to seed.

After the first flower, Nature starts dreaming of next year, and her devotion and strength go to seed, not continuing bloom in this year's garden.

The more flowers that are picked in your annual garden, the more flowers you'll have until frost.

SO GET FIRM with the distaff side about the flower picking. If you're going to be away for any length of time, invite a deserving neighbor to do the picking for you. This way you'll have continued bloom when you return from your holiday.

(And while you're at it, tell him to pick a few weeds and toss them out at the same time.)

Then you can look forward to next year's garden, which is always, and as long as you live, the one which is going to be better, bigger and finer than this year's.

U.S. Jet Bombers Could Circle Globe in 48 Hours, Vets Hear

By VERN HAUGLAND
AP Aviation Writer

OMAHA (AP) — The Strategic Air Command, global striking arm of the U.S. Air Force, says its jet bombers could fly nonstop around the world in less than 48 hours.

SAC pilots are eager to make the try, but their commander, Gen. Curtis E. Lemay, frowns on the idea.

"Why?" said Lemay to an inquiring reporter.

"What would be the point? Why waste the taxpayer's money?"

Brig. Gen. William (Butch) Blanchard, SAC's deputy director of operations, told the Air Force Association (AFA) at a briefing at SAC headquarters yesterday that the SAC bombers could "knock 50 hours off the flight time of the Lucky Lady any time they wanted to."

The B50 medium bomber Lucky Lady II, a modified Boeing B29 Superfortress, encircled the globe nonstop, 23,452 miles, in 94 hours in March, 1949. It was refueled in flight four times, and averaged 249 miles an hour.

SAC pilots of Boeing B47 medium bombers at MacDill Air Force Base, Fla., and elsewhere have been coaxing their superiors for many months to let them set new globe-girdling records. The six-jet B47 has an average speed well above 500 miles an hour, and is readily refueled in flight.

Blanchard said SAC C97 tankers have transferred 15 million gallons of fuel to aircraft in flight already this year. He said there is an average of one refueling operation each five minutes of every 24 hours, around the clock — "and 99 per cent of our refueling efforts are successful."

POSTMASTERS CONFIRMED

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has confirmed these postmaster nominations for Ohio:

John W. Wilcox Jr., Dresden; Louis Matthews Ables, Jeromesville; Donald G. Kirkton, New London; Davis S. Shia, St. Clairsville.

Major Points In New Social Security Law

WASHINGTON (AP)— Here is a summary of provisions of the compromise Social Security bill:

Benefits—Increases averaging $6 a month to all 6½ million persons now on Social Security rolls will become effective in September. Minimum increase for all 5 million retired persons is $5 a month, so that lowest payments to them hereafter will be $30. The 1½ million dependents will get a somewhat lesser figure. Formula covering benefits for persons retiring in future will be revised to provide for much larger increases. For instance, maximum individual payment will go up from $85 to $108.50, and for a couple from $127.50 to $162.75.

Taxes—Tax base on which 2 per cent levy is paid each by employe and employer will be raised from $3,600 to $4,200 a year, effective Jan. 1, 1955. This will mean a $12 tax boost for an individual earning $4,200 or more next year and also for his employer.

Coverage—Social Security system will be extended to about 10 million more persons effective Jan. 1, 1955. Included on a compulsory basis will be 3,600,000 farm operators, two million farm hands, about 10,000 engineers, architects and accountants, about 250,000 domestic workers, about 100,000 home workers and about 50,000 persons in the fishing industry. Included on a voluntary basis will be 3½ million state and local government employes, who will have to decide in a referendum whether to go under the federal system, and 260,000 ministers.

Disability Freeze — A new provision is added which guarantees that an individual who has no earnings for several years because of a disability does not suffer any reduction in his retirement payment as a result.

Old Age Assistance and other relief programs — Extends through Sept. 30, 1956, a 1952 law boosting the amount the federal government contributes to these relief programs. The 1952 law raised by $5 a month the federal share of assistance payments to the aged, blind and totally disabled and by $3 the contribution to dependent children payments. This law now is scheduled to expire Sept. 30.

Stassen Says Koreans Need More U.S. Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Harold Stassen says more American money probably will be funneled into South Korea to support the republic's army and rebuild its economy as the result of the planned withdrawal of four U.S. divisions within the next few months.

Stassen, head of the Foreign Operations Administration, told a news conference yesterday an additional need for funds beyond the 205 million dollars already planned for Koren rehabilitation had been "brought forward by the redeployment of U.S. forces.

He declined to say how much more aid money would be required.

Ellis said McGrew died from a shotgun blast in the chest and had been dead three or four days when the body was found.

Officials still are checking the whereabouts of McGrew's wife and children, whom neighbors said they had not seen for several days.

Progress—Fear—Peace

A Sermonette

By REV. EARL L. HOLLIDAY
Pastor of Maranatha Bible Church

Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace whose mind is stayed on Thee; because he trusteth in thee."—Isa. 26:3.

I am about to tell you a true story. After reading it, you may wish to change the title, but I am still going to call it "Progress-Fear-Peace."

A father once said to his son, "Son, build a better mousetrap and the world will beat a pathway to your door." Of course this is good advice to one who wants to be successful or make progress. Here in America we have done just that — made better mousetraps, telephones, television, tanks, toothpaste, I am not from Texas, but "you name it and we have it."

If a nation has ever been successful, America has, and the world has beaten a pathway to our door. We have become the most porsperous, progressive nation in the world. Even though some years ago a political slogan by mudslingers went something like this, "They cooled under Coolidge, hardened under Harding, and hungered under Hoover." We still throughout the years have reveled under the sunshine of success.

ONE WOULD THINK that with such progress would come peace, contentment, and real happiness, but not so. They are putting one out of every 100 of us in an institution to rebalance our mental condition. "Nervous breakdown," they call it. People are saying, "What causes this disorder, these suicides, these freakish actions?" I'll tell you. It is fear — stark, naked fear. Of what are we afraid? Here it is. We, like the prodigal son, have taken our God-given substances and have spent them on riotous living (we even have the next three generations in debt). Let's fa it. We're in the pig pen, and it's getting dark. Storm clouds are hovering low. There in the distance is that cloud of moral corruption that has taken away from thousands the happiness and peace that should accompany progress.

You know what I am talking about—drunkenness, divorce, debauchery — you finish it. Then close by, too close, is that cloud called the "mushroom cloud" that hangs so long in the air after the terrible blast that burns and scorches all life within its reach. Off to the east is that pink cloud that is soaking the earth with blood and enslaving the peoples of the world, and unless we awaken soon there may be a sign in Philadelphia that reads thus, "For sale, one Liberty Bell."

Am I trying to scare people? No, I am only saying that progress without peace is false. You say, "Preacher, how did we get in this mess, how did we come to this confusion and dead end?" I'll tell you that "In the midst of progress we forget (not that we didn't know) something we learned in the history class in a little country school. We heard the preachers warning us years ago. "A nation that forgets God will perish," and "There is no peace, saith the Lord to the wicked." Yes, my friend, if you want peace and contentment don't look to the glass house on the East River, for the Moscow cloud is hanging too far over it to bring peace.

DON'T LOOK FOR PEACE in the mushroom cloud, for the East has it too, with 700 TU-4's that can fly from Moscow to Chicago in eight hours. As a nation, because we forgot, we have been caught in the mousetrap of our own progress. But if you, my friend, want real peace, turn to the Bible. In Romans 5:1 you will find that we can have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ. Also, "Thou will keep him in perfect peace whose mind is stayed (fixed) on Thee." And again, "Great peace have they who love the Word of God." Yes, only as we progress with God it is true progress, without fear.

Remember God's maxim is "Whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap." As man goes, so goes the nation.

Gas Buggies Roll On

MERCED, Calif. — (UP) — An unusual sight greeted travelers between Merced and Yosemite National Park recently when 35 ancient gas buggies chugged up 85 miles of mountain road to the park.

Some of the participating early model cars were 50 years old.

Wolves Move In

WATERTOWN, N. Y. (UP) —Wolves — and not the human kind — have been reported on the nearby Camp Drum military reservation. Soldiers and civilians have seen the beasts and claim their howls can be heard at night on extreme reaches of the post.

However, the Jefferson County sheriff said a recent state ruling forced the termination of bounty payments. From now on in this county a wolf-killer's only reward will be the animal's carcass.

'Shock Color' Plan Adds New Color to Men's Wardrobes

PHILADELPHIA (UP)—It looks as though the women started something that the men are going to follow through to its logical conclusion

The Men's Apparel Club of Philadelphia calls it 'shock color," and apparently the sky's the limit in men's apparel for this fall

Leon D Reinheimer, president of the group said women started the movement to jolt men out of their staid dressing methods by the splashes of color they've added to men's wardrobes with gifts.

Reinheimer told a group of salesmen that men now realize that a pink shirt is really flattering and seem to want more The 200 lines of men's clothing which went on display indicate they're going to get it.

Most of the articles contained one or many "shock colors — bright reds, yellows lavenders and pinks—toned with gray or black to appeal to the "conservative set'

The display contained a narrow brim charcoal hat with a band of black and rose Neckties featured the combination of tones along with two-tone woven elastic belts

We know women are behind the acceptance of color and it looks as if we're going to have some masculine support," said Reinheimer, who hopes it's going to be a 'colorful" season this autumn

New Electric Brain Reaches Decisions

CHICAGO (UP) — Scientists are using 'thinking machines to solve complicated optical design problems that arise in industry, the Illinois Institute of Technology reports

The electronic brain not only provides answers but also makes its own decisions in handling information fed into it

Howard T Betz supervisor of the Armour Research Foundation's light and optics section at IIT, said the new machine traces light rays through optical systems He said the information is then used by optical designers to determine what happens in a lens system

'We feed problems into the machine and it gives us the answers much faster than they could be produced by a human worker,' he said.

The device can select the proper mathematical equation automatically from several possible equations

'In this feature" the director said 'our system probably is unique '

Olson Collects Unanimous Decision Over Castellani

Champ Keeps Middleweight's World Crown

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Middleweight champion Carl (Bobo) Olson remained the kingpin of the world's 160-pound division today after having turned back the threat of the nation's top challenger, Rocky Castellani of Cleveland.

Balding Bobo of San Francisco captured a unanimous decision over the 28-year-old Rocky last night in a 15-round nationally televised battle that was spirited, if not spectacular, and highly dramatic in at least six minutes of the struggle.

Olson is richer by $125,000, his guarantee from Castellani's manager, Al Naiman.

The 26-year-old native of Honolulu said he plans to continue fighting in the middleweight ranks despite the trouble he had making the weight limit.

Castellani, defeated for only the sixth time in 63 fights, had a date with a doctor this morning. Dr. A. Lastretti, physician for the State Athletic Commission, said Rocky fractured a bone in his left hand.

Presumably the mishap occurred in the second round when Bobo caught one of Rocky's swings on his elbow. The break was never evident to the crowd because Rocky kept throwing leather whether he landed or not.

Highlights of the fight were packed in the 11th and 12th rounds. As they came out for the 11th Rocky let fly with a right and before anyone realized it, the startled champion was sitting on the seat of his pants. Rocky tripped over Olson's leg and his glove touched the canvas, but he was up immediately.

Bobo scrambled as quickly as he could to his feet, which required a three-count, and proceeded to give Rocky all he could handle for the rest of the round.

Bobo claimed later that their feet got tangled up and he was caught and hit off balance.

In the 12th Bobo applied a Crusher. A long overhand right found Rocky's jaw and sent him crashing to the canvas.

The game Rocky needed and took a nine-count, and to his credit, fought out the round like a wounded tiger. But his hopes faded from that point on.

The unanimous verdict was automatic. Referee Ray Flores called it 89-76 under California's 11 points per round scoring system, Judge Fred Apostoli had it 85-80 and Judge Jack Downey scored 87½-77½. The AP made it 89½-75½.

Both fighters weighed in at 160.

The gate was $121,470; TV rights, $100,000.

Castellani's share was 60 per cent of the net gate and TV money, or slightly under Olson's $125,000.

CHAMP GETS DRINK. Middleweight champion Carl (Bobo) Olson drinks soup after his second weighin for his title fight with Rocky Castellani at San Francisco, Calif. Olson, weighed-in a half pound over limit, the first time, and was given two hours to make the 160 pounds. His aides hurried him to a steam bath to sweat off the extra weight. Sixty minutes later he made the weight.

Indians Blank FOP, Capture League Crown

Marion's Indians are the 1954 city Teen League champs.

The Indians blanked the Fraternal Order of Police, 2-0, in the rubber game of the three-game series for the crown last night at Lincoln Park. It marked the final game of the season in the Baseball for Boys program here.

Larry Corbin's one-hit pitching and two fourth-inning runs accounted for the Indian win. Corbin, touched for the lone hit of the seven-inning contest in the fifth, fanned seven while walking none.

His mates reached Dave Gallimore of the FOP squad for four hits, bunching two of them in the winning fourth inning. Bob Middleton led off the frame with a hit and Howard Gruber hit safely to keep the rally going. Two errors figured in the Indian scoring.

Gallimore fanned four while walking two. Gruber had three hits for the winners while Middleton came in with one. Gallimore collected the FOP's lone hit.

Yesterday's Stars

BATTING — Don Mueller, New York Giants, hit the second grand slam home run of his career, accounting for all of the runs in New York's 4-0 triumph over Pittsburgh.

PITCHING — Willard Nixon, Boston Red Sox, became the first pitcher to beat the New York Yankees four times this season and drove in the winning run as Boston defeated New York, 4-3.

Post's Play Helps Cincy Beat Cards

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Cincinnati Redlegs today began thinking of a cut of the world series melon with appropriate bows in the direction of Wally Post.

Post helped the Reds into undisputed possession of fourth place in the National League yesterday as they edged the St. Louis Cardinals, 3-2.

The card infield tied a National League record with six double plays. The record has been matched six times.

Post threw out the potential tying run in the last of the ninth inning, thus saving Cincinnati's third straight triumph, their 29th by a single marker.

St. Louis threatened in the final frame when Ray Jablonski opened with a walk. Duck Schofield, running for him, moved to second on a sacrifice. Bill Sarni grounded out, but Joe Cunningham drilled a single to right field.

Post's fine throw nipped Schofield at the plate to halt the rally.

The Reds thus moved a full game ahead of the fifth place Philadelphia Phils and two games ahead of the Cardinals.

The Reds outhit the Cards, 12-7, three of the hits contributed by Gus Bell, and displayed enough power for Joe Nuxhall's seventh decision of the year, his second over St. Louis. Nuxhall had only one bad session, the sixth, when the losers bunched three hits, and, taking advantage of an error by Bell, scored two runs.

The Reds expedited the departure of St. Louis starter Ralph Beard, the loser, by nicking him for single tallies in the first and third innings. The first score resulted from a walk and singles by Bell and Ted Kluszewski.

The third inning production was based on a single by Bobby Adams, an error, a wild pitch and an infield out. In the fourth, Post opened with a walk, went to third on Hobie Landrith's single and scored on one of the six twin killings of the evening.

Fred Baczewski engages Vic Raschi in the second of the four-game series tonight.

Hopes for Pennant Remote, White Sox Start Win Streak

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sports Writer

Somebody must have forgotten to tell the Chicago White Sox they are out of the American League pennant race.

The go-go boys are back in high gear with a five-game winning streak and breezing as if they thought they still had a chance.

Mathematically, they're right. The figures show the Sox still could overhaul both the second-place New York Yankees and the league-leading Cleveland Indians. They are five games behind New York, 8½ back of Cleveland. But the chances are remote.

The White Sox's recent record, however, shows eight victories in their last 10 starts and a highly respectable .642 percentage. That's a better average than any White Sox team has attained since 1917 and would have beaten the Yankees out of the pennant in four of the last five seasons.

Two of the team's brightest stars sparkled in last night's 8-2 victory at Detroit.

Virgil Trucks struck out six and scattered nine hits in becoming the first American League pitcher to win 18 games. Minnie Minoso moved within five points of the league batting lead with a run-scoring triple that raised his average to 331.

Cleveland defeated Baltimore 7-2 and gained a full game on the Yankees whose 10-game winning streak was ended by Willard Nixon and the Boston Red Sox 4-3. Nixon is the first pitcher to beat New York four times this season.

Milwaukee slipped another full length behind New York and Brooklyn in the National League. The Braves were beaten for the third time in four games, 3-1 by Chicago. New York defeated Pittsburgh 4-0 and Brooklyn whipped Philadelphia 6-4. The Giants lead the Dodgers by two games and Milwaukee by 6½, pending today's action.

Harvey Haddix, St. Louis Cardinals' southpaw, fanned 13 Pittsburgh batsmen on April 29.

Marion Metal, Erie and UAW Win Loop Tilts

Erie No. 1, Marion Metal and UAW 1039 were winners last night in Industrial League No. 1 play at Garfield Park.

Erie remained unbeaten in league warfare by trimming Marion Engineer Depot, 8-3. Marion Metal outscored OSCO, 20-12, and UAW 1039 defeated Local 750, 8-5, in other action.

Kunkle hurled the Erie squad to victory over Marion Engineer Depot on a five-hitter. He had a shutout going for the first five frames but the Depot squad reached him for two runs in the sixth and one in the seventh.

Erie collected 10 hits off Calbert as the Railroadmen scored thrice in the first and fifth frames and twice in the sixth. Ray Robbins had three hits, Max Roseberry two hits and C. Gruber two hits for the winning Erie nine.

An 11-run uprising in the fifth frame accounted for Marion Metal's win over OSCO. Both teams came in with four runs in the opening frame and were tied at 8-8 prior to Metal's big inning in the top of the fifth. Baker hurled Metal to the win, allowing 14 hits.

The winners were able to reach Millington of the losers for 12. Every player in the Metal lineup scored in the win with Baker leading the attack with two triples, a home run and single. Bob Reiff had a homer, two triples and single for the losing OSCO nine.

UAW 1039 bunched four of its total eight hits for five fourth-inning runs in downing Local 750. Both B. Caldwell of UAW and Taylor of Local 750 surrendered eight hits to the opposition. Garverick homered and tripled and Boyles collected two hits for the winners. Paulus had a home run for Local 750.

Confident Living

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

The Faith That Heals

I receive a great many letters every week. In fact, they run into the thousands, but I get a thrill out of reading every one of them. A recent letter, for example, came from a man in the South.

DR. PEALE

He says that his practicing of the principles I write about in this column has been helpful to him, but he never realized just how helpful until last fall when his young wife was suddenly stricken with polio. She had to be placed unconscious in an iron lung. The doctors told him that nothing could be done to save her. Then, to add to his troubles, his children became sick with what seemed to be the initial symptoms of the same disease.

"I remember," he writes, "how close I came to losing faith and giving way to utter despair. But I closed my eyes and I prayed. No matter how hard I prayed, doubt seemed to block my prayers. Then, suddenly, something came to me and a voice from nowhere seemed to say in the words of the Scriptures, 'If thou can't believe, all things are possible to him that believeth.'"

HE OPENED HIS BIBLE and went through it looking for similar statements. He found many such: "And whithersoever He entered, into villages, or cities, or country, they laid the sick in the streets, and besought Him that they might touch if it were but the border of His garment: and as many as touched Him were made whole." And, "Fear thou not; for I am with you: be not dismayed; for I am your God I will strengthen you; yea, I will help you; yea, I will uphold you with the right arm of my righteousness."

He filled his mind with these statements; he changed the "you" in the last one to "her" to fit their family situation; and he practiced his faith completely. One day he felt a presence in his wife's room which he could not describe. He looked at her face and imagined he saw an eyelid flicker. He said to her, "We cannot live without you, darling."

His letter continued: "I saw a tear form in the corner of her eye, and in that moment I knew that she had heard me and would live. That was six months ago—strength is returning now, and with it faith and hope. With God's help, she will fully recover."

I HAVE SEEN much of people and have learned something of the glory and the greatness of men like this, husbands like this, fathers like this, who receive courage by emptying their minds of fear and doubt. They draw upon the great resources of courage and hope, and practice the faith that heals.

This is only one such story from my mail. Incidents like it are related in letters which come every day. People everywhere are finding that, when all else seems to have failed, you can get from the immortal words of the Bible a vital faith that can literally work miracles in your own life and the lives of those around you.

The faith that heals is an important fact in life. Its validity is attested by the power to live valiantly and courageously, demonstrated by so many. God heals through the scientific knowledge and skill of His servants, the practitioners of medicine. He also heals through the power of faith when used humbly by dedicated men and women.

August Appraisal

There now can be complete agreement that the Eisenhower administration has learned how to function as a government team. Its position relative to Congress in the session just ended revealed beyond any question of doubt that the uncertainty, amounting sometimes to confusion, which marked its first year in office did not reappear during the 1954 session of Congress.

The President has stuck by his original policy of cooperating with Congress, instead of trying to dictate to it. But it is clear now that a policy of cooperation does not shut out a policy of positive leadership. The amount and nature of the legislation passed by Congress this year are evidence of dynamic efforts behind the legislative scenes since last January.

The Eisenhower administration has marked out plainly the pattern of its policies in a major tax revision law, a new farm price support system, revision of the Atomic Energy Act, the St. Lawrence seaway project, liberalization of old-age security and wider coverage of unemployment insurance.

It has gained control of federal expenditures, although it still has been unable to bring about substantial reduction in their total volume. It has checked the insidious spread of state socialism at the expense of private enterprise. It has formulated a policy of vigilant preparedness in its handling of foreign relations.

The significance of its accomplishments in these respects and the significance of other policies it has begun to develop, such as reinsurance for health plans and votes for 18-year-olds has been blurred over by the usual hurly-burly of legislative give and take. But even its most active critics concede that the Eisenhower administration has made more progress toward a middle-of-the-road position in its first two years than the Roosevelt administration had made toward its position "a little to the left of center" in its first two years, when it was credited with having organized and carried out "a bloodless revolution."

Best Part of the History

The presence of James Ernest Wilkins, assistant secretary of labor in President Eisenhower's administration, at a cabinet meeting last Wednesday and the appointment on Thursday of Ralph J. Bunche to the office of deputy secretary general of the United Nations are note-worthy events. Both men have made history of special significance because both are members of a colored race in the United States.

The best part of the histroy they have made is their ability to serve their country so well that they have gained high position on their merit as individuals. This is the kind of recognition that matters most deeply to colored men and women striving to get rid of race discrimination. They want to be judged for their ability, not for their color.

It is the kind of recognition that has been won most notably in this country by colored men in athletics, where the privilege of competing on even terms has been granted more widely than in any other competitive field. No one cares what the color is of the men who play baseball and football and who fight in the prize ring. They are rated according to their ability by the overhelming majority of the spectators and by most of the personnel of the sports world.

Assistant Secretary Wilkins and Deputy Secretary General Bunche are men of ability who happen to be colored. Their color is incidental to their ability. When that becomes generally true, racial discrimination will have ceased to be one of America's perennial problems.

Chairman Mitchell's Blunder

Criticism of Democratic Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell for his use of a smear gainst President Eisenhower does not take into proper account the political problem that confronts professional Democratic politicians this year.

They must find something to talk about to keep themselves in attention. Chairman Mitchell was badly advised when he tried to smear President Eisenhower with a vague allegation of corruption in the handling of a public utility contract. But the fact is, Mitchell must grab his headlines wherever he can find them.

His party had used the matter of the contract as an excuse to stage a filibuster in the Senate, for the purpose of calling attention to its policy of state socialism in the electric power industry. Its chairman was going along with his party to the best of his ability. That is what he is paid to do.

It is part of his job to be the scapegoate for strategy that backfires, and that is what happened here. The criticism of Mr. Mitchell properly should be directed against all Democratic strategists trying desperately to find talking points for the 1954 congressional campaign — so desperately they can't find them for trying.

Chairman Mitchell, it can be assumed, knows better than to impugn the honesty of Dwight Eisenhower without any facts to support his smear. He blundered. But as far as that is concerned, it was a blunder to warm over state socialism as a vote-getter in the 1954 campaign.

Mark of True Liberals

By David Lawrence

Nominees' Right To Dissent Respected by GOP

The Republican party is emerging as the liberal party of the nation, and President Eisenhower as the truly liberal leader.

This is because, under the acid test of what is or is not liberalism, the Republican party's leadership has taken the position that it will not punish its minority for dissenting views but will embrace within the fold the nominees of the Republican party as chosen by the people in their respective state primaries. Freedom of thought is the basic principle of liberalism.

All such things as "purges" of party nominees by the president are taboo. Eisenhower has been variously represented as adopting the Truman - Roosevelt view of party "leadership," which is really a form of dictatorship. That same view was adopted by Adlai Stevenson in the campaign of 1952 and has just been reiterated by him.

Eisenhower, on the other hand, feels that Republicans can differ conscientiously and that some of the men who did not vote for certain parts of his legislative program did so in the honest belief that they were voting as their constituents wanted them to vote.

THE SUPPORT of President Eisenhower in the coming campaign for those of his party who differed with him not only is liberalism and tolerance at its best but it recognizes the very important liberal principle that the voters themselves, through their freedom of choice in the primaries, shall decide who is entitled to wear the party label in a campaign.

This has a direct bearing on the appearance just made by Eisenhower at the Illinois State Fair, where he was on the same platform with Joseph Meek, the Republican senatorial nominee in Illinois who previously had expressed different views from the President on various national issues.

From a practical political standpoint, it has always been argued that the party leader who helps a congressional nominee get elected has a better chance of winning his support in congressional votes next time than if the nominee wins the election despite the leader's open opposition.

The fundamental principle involved is that the party nominees cannot justly be repudiated by a president and that, once the people have chosen the party nominees, the president is in duty bound to support them.

What about the regular Republican voters? What is their responsibility? There's an interesting situation in New Jersey, for example, where former Representative Clifford Case won the Republican senatorial nomination in the primaries. He is facing a rebellion of Republican voters because of his record in the House of Representatives, which it is charged resembled the New Deal.

In addition to this, he made a foolish statement after his nomination this year about his intention, if elected, to vote against the selection of Sen. McCarthy for a committee chairmanship next January if the Republicans win control of the Senate.

WHAT HE MIGHT have with propriety said was that he would vote against Sen. McCarthy in the Republican conference, where a slate of chairmen is usually prepared in advance of a formal vote by the Senate. Had he done so, he would have been expressing his convictions — and he has as much right to his views as any other Republican — but he would not then be saying, in effect, that he would cast a vote to put the Democrats in control of the Senate if by chance one vote would decide the issue of control.

Case still has an opportunity to clarify his position, as his original statement was vague on that point. Once he agrees to accept the obligations of a Republican nominee elected to the Senate — which includes voting for the slate chosen by a party majority for chairmanships — he is entitled to go before the voters as a Republican and to express his views on any issues that he wishes.

This does not mean that Case necessarily can win the election, because he is up against the problem of persuading Republican voters to cast their ballots for him, and no voter is bound by his party under the American system. He can change parties at will. But Case's chances of winning the support of regular Republicans will be improved if he indicates an intention to remain loyal to the Republican party and to accept the judgment of the party conference in the Senate on matters of committee control.

SEN. MORSE, who classifies himself as an "Independent" but who was nominated in the Republican primaries and elected in 1950, has a different concept of his responsibility to the Republican constituency which elected him. He feels that next year, if the Democrats win control, he can vote with them. This could mean that perhaps he does not intend to be a candidate in the Republican primaries again.

The important point is that Eisenhower is taking the truly liberal position when he says that he will support all Republican nominees and will not try to impose any "thought control" or "conformity of thought" on the nominees of the Republican party. He would be obliged under this doctrine to support Morse if the latter were renominated by the Republican party next time.

It's really a liberal viewpoint, and it is unfortunate that the Democratic leadership under Stevenson is still sticking to the reactionary concept that a clique of men can disregard the choice of the voters for members of Congress in the Democratic party primaries.

Diverting His Attention

Adenauer's Fight To Salvage EDC

By Anthony Terry

BONN

While Chancellor Adenauer strives in Brussels to drive through a united defense for Europe, his own power at home erodes under the strike wave.

Prolonged industrial unrest lies ahead for West Germany, following the success of the test strike by Hamburg's public service employes. A total of 785,000 state and local government employes voted on wage increases while police guarded strike - bound factories where riots injured 21 persons.

For Adenauer, combatting France's proposals to weaken EDC, the developments are far more menacing than mere evidence of industrial unrest. They are accentuating conflicts, disputes — the extremes, driving Germans into opposition camps and weakning Adenauer's own middle-of-the road position.

IN THE RUHR over 900,000 metal workers, led by their ex-Communist union president, Otto Brenner, have served notices terminating present wage scales by the end of August, and have threatened to strike unless their demands are met.

For political and prestige reasons the unions have chosen the powerful Ruhr industrial firms as their next objective in the campaign for higher wages. These companies have been quietly regrouping in an effort to regain some of the power they lost when the big German trusts were broken up after the war.

How successful they have been is shown by the record of one of West Germany's largest chemical firms just published. This 20 million dollar firm formerly a key trust, now employs 38,000 people corporation in the German dye in its associated companies, and increased its profits 30-fold last year. A third of its output is exported, a 50 per cent increase over last year, and sales are up by over a third.

Behind the worsening atmosphere between labor and employers lie two main factors.

The first is that the average German, who agreed to a wages' truce after the war in order not to disturb industrial recovery, has now decided that too small a share of the "cream" of such successes is coming his way, and that his patriotic forebearance is being misused.

THE OTHER IS the unions' need to demonstrate their strength in order to restore a waning prestige which has lost them a million members in the past three years. This has enabled the employers to negotiate private wage increased and bonuses with their employers. This makes them bad negotiators.

The almost truculent confidence of German employers, now on the crest of a prosperity wave, and the fact that since the Nazis came to power 21 years ago the country has never had a major strike are certain to make the forthcoming unrest bitter and violent.

One of the psychological difficulties is that the union leaders suffer from a basic inferiority complex when faced with the bad negotiators.

Allied officials who have been observing and helping the rebirth of the trade - union movement in West Germany since the war are disappointed at the lack of constructive leadership, and the refusal of union officials to join government - sponsored organizations when they are in a minority. A case in point is the newly formed federal "technical service," which the unions claim is a revival of the Na'i's "technische nothilfe," and therefore a strike-breaking organization. They have refused government offers to include union leaders in its controlling body as a means of giving them a say in its activities.

ANOTHER FACTOR which contributed to the violence of the clashes between police and strikers is the growing feeling of unease arising over the case of Dr. Otto John, the federal security chief, who has gone to East Germany.

These fears are gnawing away that confidence in the Bonn government which has been the principal facor in the "German miracle" of industrial recovery. It is going to need all Dr. Adenauer's persuasive powers to restore the faith in his administration which is the basis of German economic strength.

It is inevitable that the coming industrial strife will widen the gulf between employers and labor and compel many moderate Germans of both groups to take sides. This tendency to accentuate extremes and weaken the moderating influence of Adenauer's middle - of-the-road Christian Democratic party is the most dangerous symptom of present-day developments.

So far the German unions have been entirely free from Communist influence, despite efforts by the East Germans to make capital out of the present strikes. The union congress to be held in October may show whether the West German trade union movement is resuming its traditionally aggressive and radical character and has irrevocably chosen the path of class warfare in place of negotiation.

Cotton Corners

By TRUMAN TWILL

Dear Nephew: Your aunt has suggested that you might like to hear a report on our stationary vacation. We are now entering the second week of same and wish you were here.

Evry morning when we wake up we lie in bed until we have thought of somewhere to go. One day, for example, we drove 390 mils in a big loop so we could tell everybody how far we had traveled and how things looked in other parts of the country. But mostly we stay close to home.

We have hired Mrs. Wiley to come in to do the cooking. She does the best she can, which is less than half as good as your aunt can do with one hand tied behind her. But the quality of her meals compares favorably with what we'd get on the open road, taking pot luck with relations and friends and gambling on restaurants with ornamental fronts. It adds to the illusion that we are living it up.

This will disgust you, but last Sunday we lolled on the beach. We did not take off our clothes, having reached an age when there is no percentage in that. But we persuaded Elmer Craig to let us sit on the sand at his lake under a beach umbrella. Your aunt wore sun glasses, to give the illusion of being a movie acress having a day off.

I think the most fun we've had was hiring the little car. I think it was called an MG. The idea was to be part of the international set, mechanically speaking. I rented her for an hour and we circulated around the Corners and spent enough time cruising up and down Main Street in town so everybody will have a chance to say, "Have you heard what that crazy old man did this time?"

That's me, a crazy old man. I'm loving it because I have more fun being the way I am than other people have being sane. This idea of taking a vacation without any inconvenience was not all mine, however. The crazy woman I live with tempted me, which is the way it has been from the beginning.

She said she couldn't think of any good reason why a woman who enjoyed the comforts of her own home should submit to any degree of vacation discomfort whatsoever. She said that barring a few inaccessible places she would like to see, she could think of nothing accessible that she hadn't already seen or could not imagine, twice as big as life and three times more colorful.

She now says that by the time we get rid of Mrs. Wiley's cooking, she will be so glad to get back into the kitchen she will not complain for the next six months. We have figured it up that the idea is going to cost us $200 for a two-weeks vacation, which is only about $100 more than it would have cost us to live anyway.

We do not recommend it for anyone else. Vacationing is a personal matter. Sometime we would like to go to Europe, for example, but we'd go on only one condition — that we could stay for at least six months and preferably a year. That, of course, would be out of the question. Your aunt doesn't know who she could depend on to water the plants for that long a time.

Do not be upset if you receive post cards of local scenes and points of interest, such as the flagpole in front of the courthouse. I brought home a dozen today when I went to town to buy one of those sport shirts with flowers on them. I notice that all well dressed male tourists wear these, and I intend to lounge around the gas station a couple of hours some day and let on that I am from darkest Africa. John Pfeiffer, owner of a blacksmith shop at Scott Town, now Meeker, for many years, was born in Delaware County, Oct. 18, 1846. He learned his trade from his father and prior to owning his own shop worked four years with John McElroy and George Pugh, two and a quarters years with Levan Miller, two and one-sixth years with Conrad Fritchey and four months with Mr. Hull. He was threatened by death three different times, by being kicked by a horse, falling off a building and by being run over by a hand-car.

Sniffing the Snuff Story

By MARK DANA

Word has been sniffed out of pharmaceutical laboratories that researchers are studying a kind of narcotic snuff which was being used by witch doctors among the Indians when Columbus reached the New World in 1492, although the Indians are not being credited (or blamed) for originating tobacco snuff.

Maybe this latter was discovered, or later devised, by the crewmen of Sir Walter Raleigh sent over many years afterward. Sir Walter, of course, never crossed the Atlantic himself (he was kept busy in England cleaning his coats after laying them acoss mud puddles), but he has received some vicarious repute for introducing Indians' tobacco among his fellow courtiers. Presently, a mlae court hanger-on would have felt as undressed without an ornate snuff-box as without skin-tight silk pants.

The very earliest snuff used by the Indians, it now is revealed, was a narcotic called cohoba, which contained a still-used compound called bufotenine, and the ently, a male court hanger-on which persuaded them groggily to give Columbus presents instead of lifting his scalp.

Some modern Indians, confined to reservations, and reduced to counting their oil-land royalties and revenues from selling to tourists various trinkets bought wholesale from Chicago factories, may regret their ancestors' sleepy generosity about leaving scalps in place, but at least the drug survived.

It's said to be fairly soporific after an initial uplift; no doubt just the thing to whiff when the host's little son has been asked to play the violin for visitors.

HAMPTON, Va. (AP)—A blind man was convicted here of selling whiskey illegally. Alcoholic Beverage Control agents testified he was capable of making the sales because he could tell money from ordinary paper unfailingly by the feel.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

How Wrong Can They Get?

Soviet Russia, according to latest dispatches, is renewing its fight on religion, again determined to crush belief in a Supreme Being. This will ultimately stop the Communist march more certainly than any atomic bombs. The prophets and the saints need no U. N. The disciples can never lose a war, hot or cold. Anybody who tries to partition the faith of human beings is tackling the impossible.

"The Lord is my Shepherd" will always mean more than "My dictator is hot stuff." "He leadeth me beside still waters" will always give mankind more confidence than "The premier is out with a new twenty-year plan." And no promise or pronouncement of any governmental wonder boys anywhere will seem as safe to tie to as "Thy rod and Thy staff, they comfort me." The Kremlin is off its rocker if it thinks any 38th Parallel can be established between human beings and their right to commune with whatever God their faith has blessed them with.

Through the ages man has worshiped a Supreme Being. His faith has been his greatest solace in heavy going. When any ruler starts playing rough with him in this respect he is taking the losing end. The dictator who closes churches, sneers at the praying populace and makes it dangerous to kneel at an altar railing is going off the deep end, and the Free World may be getting its best break if the Soviet Union tries to throw an iron curtain between man and his God, and orders its people to scorn the soul-refreshing peace of the chapel and cathedral.

The more Russia fights religion, the less her chance for survival. People are pretty much alike down deep inside, regardless of nationality, climate, location, programs, speeches and ideologies. The prayer that gives comfort to a mother anywhere else gives comfort to her, in Russia.

In the shadows cast by the flickering light of cathedral candles a Moscow family sees the Holy figures seen by a family in Wappingers Falls or Chillicothe.

The heart of a Russian man or woman is no less moved by the great hymns of their faith than is the heart of men and women all over the earth. Ivan Petrovich is made of the same stuff as John Jones.

Malenkov can deride a prayer book or a string of Rosary beads but he has nothing in his program capable of giving people as much hope and peace. He can scoff at the sign of the Cross but the harvmer and sickle will, in the long run, never come even close.

The Soviet new drive against religion is being concentrated on youth. This may get somewhere at first, but the kids will, in time, sense what is missing from their lives, and it won't be a review in Red Square.

When trial and tribulation come they will seek the comfort that comes through the Bible, the house of worship and the teachings of their forefathers.

The shell of the Easter dawn, the glory of Christmas Eve, the music of the chapel bells, the lips of a mother moving in prayer and the matchless chronicles of the old and new testaments will always have the edicts of dictators licked to a frazzle in the final returns. Faith is too permanent for the veto.

The Russian "walkout" on "I am the Lord thy God" will be unavailing. You can't sabotage the Sermon on the Mount. And what's sillier than a conspiracy against the Ten Commandments, or man's right to worship his own God in his own way?

Study New Building

Church of Nazarene Sets Expansion Project Here

In preparation for a denominational program of expansion in Marion, First Church of the Nazarene has purchased nearly an acre of ground in southeast Marion. Built eventually on the plot located in Kensington Pl., south of Indiana Ave., will be a place of worship to be known as Second Church of the Nazarene. Rev. Lester L. Zimmerman, pastor of First Church, announced today.

First step planned for occupying the newly acquired property however, is the building of a parish house which will be used as a social center by the "parent" organization, First Church of the Nazarene. Ultimately it will be put to use by the new congregation and First Church jointly for that purpose. This will be designated as a Fellowship Hall and besides serving as a meeting place for church organizations will be the center for beginning the new work. It is hoped that this construction will be completed by Nov. 1.

When the new congregation is deemed sufficiently strong, blueprints will be drawn for building a parsonage. According to present plans the rear section of the property will be utilized as a parking lot to provide off-the-street parking for all gatherings.

Beginning of the Sunday School and church services will be under supervision of First Church in cooperation with the Church of the Nazarene Central District Home Mission Board. Expansion of the denomination into a new area has been necessitated by rapid growth of the First Church attendance which is close to overflowing capacity of the present church on W. Church St. The congregation has been in its present church home since 1947, having purchased and remodeled the church building which was previously the property of Central Christian Church.

'Dollar Board' Joins in Fight To Curb Polio

Doing his part for the Emergency March of Dimes is "Beanie" Nicolosi, owner of the Ritz Grill at 154 S. Main St.

Using his idea that "you can do a lot more with dollars," Beanie has erected a large board on the wall of his cafe. Customers are urged to buy a new dollar bill from Beanie, at the current exchange rate of 100 cents each, and autograph it. Beanie then pins the bill to the board, and marks the event by ringing a cow-bell.

Last January, during the regular March of Dimes campaign, Beanie's cow-bell rang many times, since the board was filled to overflowing. At that time, his idea netted almost $500 for the polio drive.

When the emergency campaign was being planned, Beanie was called on to help raise some more dollars for the Dimes drive.

New Minister Fills First EUB Pulpit Sunday

Beginning his pastorate at First EUB Church tomorrow morning, Rev. John C Searle Jr will preach on "I Couldn't Care Less." He was appointed to serve the congregation here at a recent session of the denomination's annual conference at St Marys, O., and comes to Marion from a four-year ministry at Memorial EUB Church in Sidney.

A veteran of World War II, he has served one other pastorate, the Webster EUB Church, where he was minister four years also. Graduated from high school in Shelby, he took his college work at Wheaton College in Illinois and at Moody Bible Institute at Chicago. He received his bachelor's degree from Bowling Green State University in 1950 and earned his graduate degree from United Theological Seminary at Dayton last year. During his three years in the U. S. Army, he saw 18 months of duty in the European theater of war. He received the Combat Infantryman's Badge and the Bronze Star Medal while serving with the 89th Infantry Division of the 3rd Army.

Rev. and Mrs. Searle were married in 1947 and have one son, Steven, aged nine months. They will move into the parsonage on S. Prospect St. next week.

Sunday School Council is scheduled to meet Monday night, and Council of Administration Tuesday night.

A farewell party for the former pastor, Rev. L. E. Ames, and Mrs Ames, with carry-in supper, will be Monday at 6:30 p.m., followed by a program. Rev. Ames has been appointed pastor of the Somerset EUB Church in Toledo.

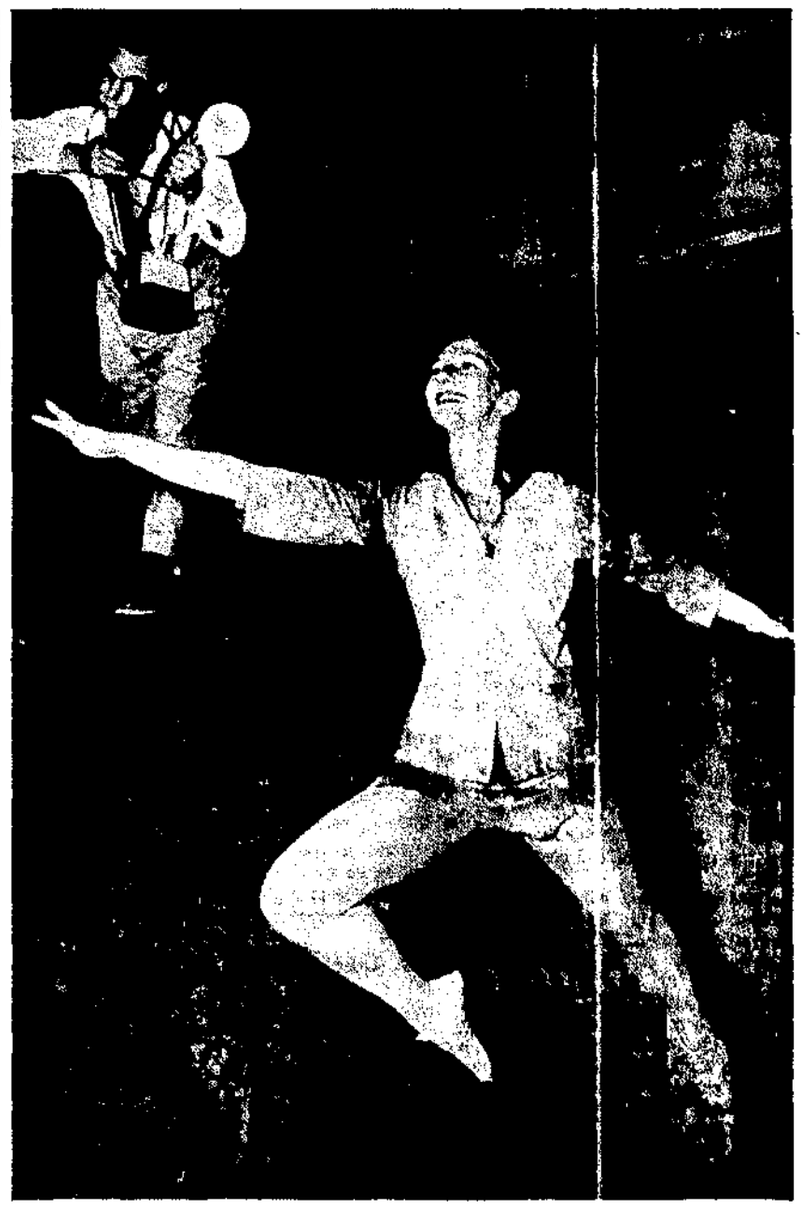
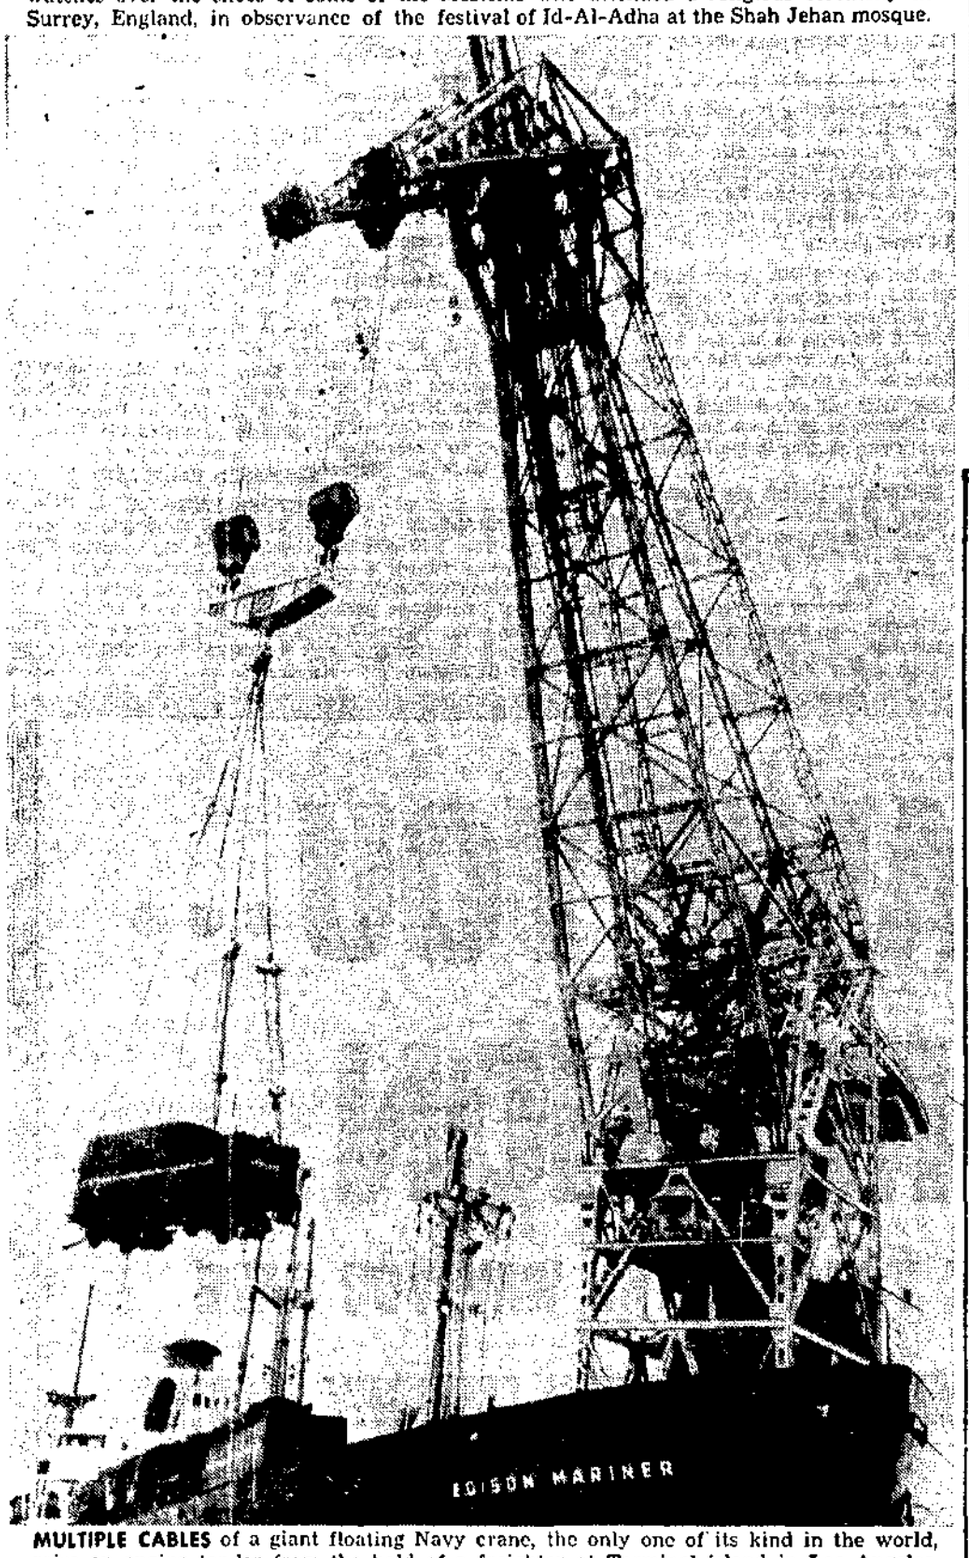
SHAHRUCK KHAN takes his assignment with a dignity that belies his three years as he watches over the shoes of some of the Moslems who attended a religious ceremony in Surrey, England, in observance of the festival of Id-Al-Adha at the Shah Jehan mosque.

IF YOU TAKE a careful look, you'll see a small head sticking out from the pouch of Tilly, the Australian kangaroo, at London zoo. The head belongs to Kandy, who is caught by photographer looking for a tidbit.



WHAT SOME PEOPLE have to go through in the line of duty! Cameraman Perry Fowler had an assignment to get a picture of stage star Mary Martin rehearsing for her role in Peter Pan. To get this photo, Fowler hangs from a flying belt above her as she sails through the air gracefully as a glider.



MULTIPLE CABLES of a giant floating Navy crane, the only one of its kind in the world, raise an engine tender from the hold of a freighter at Terminal island in Los Angeles. Six locomotives and eight tenders were brought to port for shipment as gifts to Korea.

THEY'VE BEEN STUDYING ON THE RAILROAD

RECRUITING FOR the Boy Scouts should pick up quickly when the news gets out about the newest merit badge award. It's for railroading. Here's the best part—the Scouts are getting a chance to tour railroad yards under a program set up by the Eastern Railroad Presidents conference. In Columbus, O., for instance, Scouts climbed aboard a huge diesel locomotive, visited car inspection and repair shops, watched long freight trains being made up in "hump" yards, sat at centralized control boards and consulted with veteran railroad men. They are learning practical railroading under the supervision of local railway executives and operations experts. This on-the-spot knowledge will be combined with written pamphlets on the subject. What they learn about the railroads will give them a greater understanding of their importance to national economy.

Switching tower operator shows operation of myriad lights.

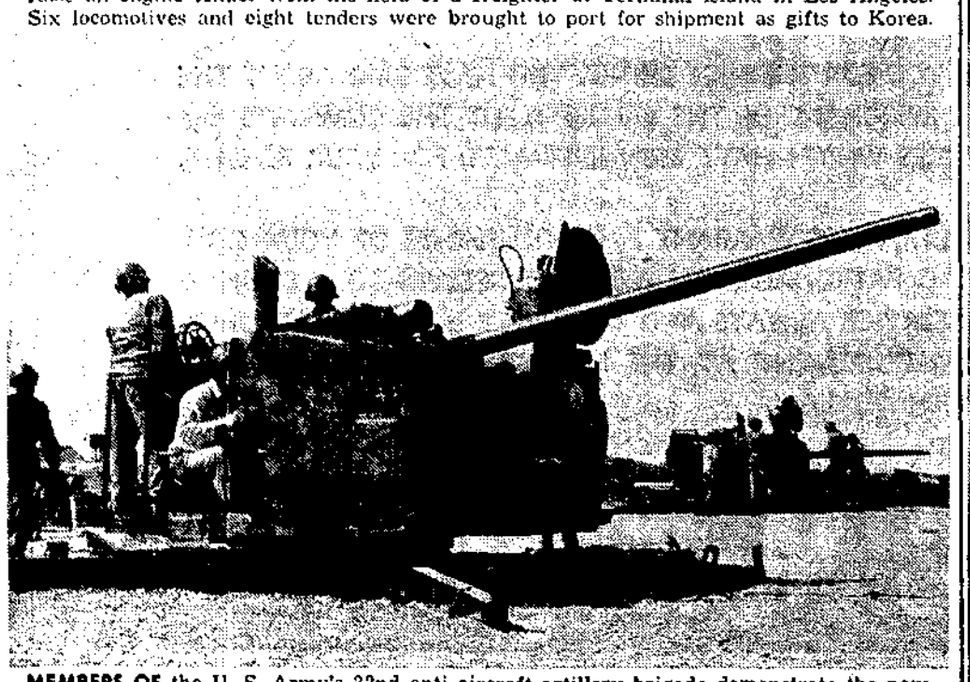
Inspector George Fenneken checks journal bearing for heat.

In cab, Scout Jim Hastings watches for a block signal to change so the train can proceed.



MEMBERS OF the U. S. Army's 32nd anti-aircraft artillery brigade demonstrate the new "Skysweeper" for British observers on the command firing range at Norfolk, England. They're the first unit in Europe to be supplied with the 75-mm anti-aircraft weapon.
